IRAN OFFERS TO LET UNO SHELVE CASE

PRODUCTION AT ALL-TIME HIGH, TRUMAN SAYS

President Warns Coal Strike Could Wreck Current Favorable Economy.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3 — President Truman said today that production for civilians was higher today than ever before in the nation's history, in war or in peace, and is still going up."

Employment, which slumped after V-J day, is "building up steadily, and non-agricultural employment is now above the V-J day level," Mr. Truman said in a statement issued at his news conference

"Unemployment is around 3,000,000, which is lower than any of us thought possible six months ago" the statement continued. "Private wage and salary payments, which dipped sharply after V-J day, are now around the V-J day level."

"The public debt, which necessarily grew to give us our airplanes and guns, has now stopped rising and our revenues and expenditures are more nearly in balance."

Contracts Are Signed

The signing of wage contracts in many basic industries indicates the country is ready for unbroken production, the statement asserted.

But when asked what effect a long-continued coal strike would have on the picture, Mr. Truman replied that a prolonged coal shutdown would knock the whole thing out.

The steel strike, he told the reporters, cost the nation about 5,000,000 tons of steel products or one-ninth of a full year's production.

The President's statement was issued in connection with the release of a civilian production report by Reconversion Director John W. Snyder, saying output had reached its highest level in history

Snyder estimated factory output now exceeded $150,000,000,000 a year, and non-farm employment is above what it was before V-J day, when war plants were running full blast.

The President's statement warned, however:

"We must not be complacent about these good signs of progress. We can not afford to relax for one minute our battle against inflation.

"Our progress to date will be completely nullified if we do not have an early extension of our price control and stabilization laws for without them progress will be turned into economic chaos.

"Likewise, protracted work stoppages in any one of a number of important fields—for instance in the coal industry—could seriously delay our progress. Housing, too, is an immediate problem requiring immediate action."

Read Report Twice

The President said he had read Snyder's report through twice and it "should be required reading for every thinking American."

Asked why certain goods are scarce, in view of the towering production rate, Mr. Truman replied that in certain individual products, like shirts, distribution is not as good as it should be.

You must understand that shelf supplies and inventories were seriously depleted at the war's end, he added, and that it takes 32,000 automobiles merely to give each dealer a model for show

The feared sharp rise in joblessness has not occurred, Snyder said, and private wage payments have climbed back almost to the wartime level of $82,000,000,000 annually. This is a $7,000,000,000 gain since the postwar slump.

The number of job-seekers in February was "still below 3,000,000," Snyder estimated. This compares with last fall's official estimates of up to 8,000,000 unemployed by this spring.

Rated Most Optimistic

The 56-page statement was the most optimistic of six quarterly reports issued so far by the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion. But Snyder emphasized that strikes and the threat of in-

HOME PROJECT WORK STARTED

21 Single Unit Dwellings To Be Constructed on Merchant Avenue.

A private housing project, calling for construction of 21 new single unit residential properties on Merchant avenue, is getting under way here.

The houses are being built by Frank Postell of Fairview street, Marion contractor. He said all the houses are to be completed before next winter and the first four or five will be completed within 60 to 90 days.

The houses will have a total sale value of between $180,000 and $190,000. The project is considered the largest program for the building of single unit residences in Marion in the last 20 years. In size it compares with the Universal addition and the Prospect and Oak street projects, both of which were built during the war years. All these houses, however, are two-family units.

Variety of Architecture

The houses will be of one and two stories, with one floor, five-room units predominating. They will be sold under FHA ceiling prices ranging from $8,662 to $8,995. All will be of different architectural styles.

Priorities on materials have been obtained on 14 of the houses and the priorities for the others will be forthcoming soon, Mr. Postell said.

The project is primarily for war veterans and their families. In order to obtain priorities the contractor agreed to offer the homse for sale to veterans first. Veterans have first chance to purchase during the period of construction and for 30 days after the houses are completed. If they are not taken by veterans in that period they can be sold to any purchaser at the same ceiling price.

Some Garages Built

A number of garages for the new houses already have been built.

A power shovel is on the site to excavate the basements. Sewer lines now are being laid and other utilities installed.

All the lots have a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 124 feet.

The lots, which are owned by Mr. Postell, are located on Merchant avenue between East Church street and Indiana avenue.

OPENING CEREMONIES FOR FLOOD JOB SET

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., April 3—Ground-breaking ceremonies tomorrow or Friday will mark the beginning of work on the $5,000,000 dam and reservoir on the Olentangy river north of here.

Families affected by the flood control project are scheduled to move out by June 1.

Army engineers obtained an order of immediate possession to 21 tracts of land from U. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood last week, and yesterday an access road was begun to the site of the big dam.

The construction, with a three-mile dike and 1,000 acre permanent pool will protect Delaware and Columbus from Olentangy river floods and also will reduce flood crests on the Scioto river at Chillicothe and Portsmouth, and on the Ohio river beyond Portsmouth.

Boards Give 16-Cent Boost To 1,220,000 Railroad Workers

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 3—Bert M. Jewell, chairman of 15 nonoperating railway labor organizations, announced today that a board of arbitration had awarded a 16 cents an hour wage increase to some 1,100,000 railroad workers. The unions had asked 30 cents an hour.

Other spokesmen said another board had awarded a similar increase to about 120,000 operating employes.

Felix H. Knight and E. E. Milliman, labor members of the arbitration board, said they had agreed on the amount of the wage increase "with great reluctance."

Knight and Milliman said the award was made "wholly arbitrarily, is not based on the evidence before the board, and is made without consideration of the equities of the employes' claim."

"x x x We have joined in such an award solely because the only alternatives left to us by attitude of other members of the board were to have the proceedings end in failure to make an award, or to have the amount awarded subjected to a further arbitrary reduction below the amount considered proper by the arbitrators x x x in order to induce the carrier representatives to join in it."

The board was scheduled to file its report with the clerk of the United States district court at 2 p. m. today at which time a board considering a demand of $2.50 daily wage boosts by three operating brotherhoods was expected to announce its findings. The recommendations are binding on all parties.

Affects 130 Lines

The wage increase award applies to the nation's 130 Class One railroads—lines whose revenues amount to more than $1,000,000 annually.

Fifteen non-operating brotherhoods including such employes as shop forces, maintenance men, clerks and telegraphers, and three operating unions, the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Conductors and Switchmen, representing in all more than 1,000,000 workers, were involved.

Negotiations began last fall when the workers presented their demands, including wage increases as well as changes in working rules. The National Railway Mediation board carried on mediation between railroad managements and the 18 brotherhoods from Dec. 18, 1945, to Jan. 26, 1946.

Then the 18 brotherhoods and the carriers agreed to arbitration which would be binding on both sides on the wage demands only, the rules case being deferred.

Two other operating brotherhoods, the trainmen and locomotive engineers, and the carriers failed to agree on either mediation or arbitration. These two brotherhoods, representing about 250,000 employes, took a strike vote and called a strike for March 11.

President Truman thereupon named an emergency fact-finding board to study demands of the trainmen and engineers for changes in 45 working rules, including a demand for a wage increase of 25 per cent with a minimum of $2.50 a day. This fact-finding panel is still in session in Chicago.

Toll of Waves Climbs Higher

Hawaii Presses Search for Bodies To Avert Threat of Contagion.

By The Associated Press

HONOLULU, April 3 — The multi-million dollar debris of seismic wave-ravaged Hilo yielded seven more bodies today as weary volunteers, spurred by a threat of contagion, continued their unceasing search.

The earthquake-born disturbance—now completely subsided—took possibly 176 lives as it pounded shores from the Aleutians to Hawaii, to California and to Peru.

The territorial government of these hardest-hit islands, rushing the roundup of 6,000 fresh diapers and huge stocks of food for desolated Hilo, found time to elicit a pledge of U. S. priorities for the vast rebuilding task ahead. Damage rose into millions of dollars, and most insurance policies did not cover wave destruction.

The territorial toll of 79 dead and 85 missing included: Hilo and the island of Hawaii 55 dead and 73 missing; Kauai 12 and six; Maui seven and five, and Oahu five and one. All bodies had been identified.

Added to these were 10 presumed deaths in the Aleutians and one each in California and Peru.

An estimated 4,000 Hawaiians were homeless.

Reds and Chinese Reported Fighting

By The Associated Press

PEIPING, April 3—Semi-official press dispatches today reported fighting in Changchun, the capital of Manchuria, between both unidentified troops and government peace preservation troops (PPC) forces and between Russian army soldiers and the PPC.

The Soviet-PPC clash, in the center of Changchun, was attributed to a misunderstanding.

A central news agency correspondent in Changchun said 300 unidentified troops set afire two barracks at Chungchun airfield, formerly occupied by Soviet troops, and Hsingan bridge. Peace preservation sentries moved to intercept the marauders and fighting ensued until nearly daybreak.

CRUCIAL VOTE SET IN BATTLE TO CURB OPA

Backers Fear Agency May Be "Amended to Death" by Committee.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—An amendment to the OPA act to require removal of price controls in various fields as supply comes into balance with demand was approved 20 to 3 today by the house banking committee.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—OPA awaited a crucial verdict today with some supporters fearful it would be "amended to death" and even the merchants who must contend with price ceilings unable to agree.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) called the house banking committee to a closed door session for showdown votes on a series of far-reaching amendments proposed by Rep. Wolcott of Michigan, senior committee Republican.

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla), a committee member, told newsmen in advance of the meeting "there's danger we will have price control in name only."

As further evidence of the sharp split over OPA's future, the National Retail Federation prepared to poll its member organizations representing 500,000 storekeepers on how long they wanted to keep on selling goods under price ceilings.

The federation's annual meeting closed in a tangle of disagreement on that issue last night.

According to persons who attended the private meeting, the resolutions committee itself was split with one faction urging a nine-month extension of OPA and another supporting only a six-month continuance.

One of Wolcott's amendments would limit OPA's new lease on life to nine months beyond June 30. The Michigan Republican also proposed:

Forced liquidation of price control over any industry where production approaches a yet-to-be determined percentage of demand

A prohibition against any ceiling price that does not reflect cost of production plus a reasonable profit.

Gradual removal of subsidies on all commodities by January 1 with proportionate price increases.

Price Hikes Seen For Milk, Butter, Cheese

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Retail prices for milk, butter and cheese are "quite likely" to be increased soon, government officials predicted today.

Both OPA and the agriculture department have recommended increases, and their proposals are being studied by the Office of Economic Stabilization, said these officials who withheld use of their names.

"The whole question of how much these increases may be is still very much up in the air," said one official, "but in the case of milk a jump of about a cent a quart looks about right."

Name Change Is Authorized by Shovel Co.

Word "Power" To Replace "Steam"; Directors and Officers Reelected.

Stockholders of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. at an annual meeting yesterday voted to change the name of the company to the Marion Power Shovel Co., and adopted by unanimous approval a many-sided program for the development and expansion of the company. All directors and company officers were reelected. A two-day meeting of stockholders and directors ended late yesterday.

The official stockholder approval of the change of the company's name was made because it is felt the word "steam" is obsolete in the line of power shovels manufactured by the company.

The company has gone under the name of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. since it was established in 1884. Application has been made to the secretary of state to have the name changed.

The holders of common stock voted an increase in the authorized common stock of the company to 400,000 shares. Officials announced an offer will be made later to the holders of the preferred stock to exchange one-half of the preferred shares for a stated number of shares of the common stock. The exact number of shares of common to be offered in exchange for a share of preferred will be determined by the board of directors at the time of the offering.

The preferred stockholders approved an amendment to the articles of incorporation of the company to authorize the company to borrow from banks or insurance companies on loans maturing up to 10 years.

At the present time the management has borrowed $1,000,000 from banks on a short term basis. This approved amendment permits the conversion of this loan into a long term loan, thereby improving the company's current position and releasing funds for the rehabilitation of the plant.

PEACE EFFORTS IN 5 STRIKES ARE PUSHED

By The Associated Press

Attempts to settle five major labor disputes held top attention today along the nation's labor front.

As 400,000 soft coal miners remained away from their jobs for the third day, Special Federal Conciliator Paul W. Fuller planned a new gesture to keep the negotiations between the operators and John L. Lewis from becoming hopelessly deadlocked.

Fuller did not disclose details as he prepared to meet with the principals in the dispute over a new contract. Lewis, president of the AFL United Mine Workers, said he was not ready to discuss wages and hours with the producers until they agree in principle to the idea of a health and welfare fund for the miners.

Also in Washington, federal conciliators said there was a possibility of an early settlement of the 72-day strike by 30,000 International Harvester Co. employes. The company and CIO Farm Equipment Workers union have agreed to an 18-cent hourly wage increase and principal issues under negotiation include union security provisions, seniority and grievance procedures.

The strike of 5,200 AFL operators of Detroit's city owned transportation system was in its third day and union and city officials did not indicate an agreement on a wage issue was imminent. The union struck in support of demands for an 18-cent hourly wage hike. Peace hopes were also seen in Akron's Transit tie up.

In Pittsburgh, Gwilyn A. Price, president of the strikebound Westhouse Electric Corp. said his company would "willingly" appear before a senate committee, if it holds a hearing into the 11 weeks old walkout by 75,000 CIO electrical workers at the company's plants. Senators Guffey and Myers of Pennsylvania told CIO leaders they would ask the senate education and labor sub-committee to conduct the hearing.

Price, in a statement said his company had appeared before the senate education and labor committee on Feb. 1 to explain its position and that throughout negotiations with the union the company has "welcomed every opportunity to publicly discuss the issues involved." The strikers, who walked out on Jan. 15, are seeking hourly wage increases of 18½ cents.

OPEN CANCER CAMPAIGN HERE

Don Ebright and Marion Physicians Help Launch Drive in Marion.

Don H. Ebright, treasurer of the state of Ohio, and acting as state chairman for the American Cancer Society campaign, was the principal speaker at a banquet given by the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Harding last night. The dinner marked the opening of a drive by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to raise $25,000 in April as part of a nationwide cancer control campaign.

Mr. Ebright pointed out the need for education of the public to recognize cancer in its early stages, since almost half the deaths from cancer are preventable. Cancer killed 607,000 Americans between Pearl Harbor and V-J Day and the death toll from the disease in the United States now reaches 78 a day, he said. His speech was broadcast over WMRN.

Project of Year

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the local drive as its project for the year. Canvasses will be made of industrial and commercial establishments, churches, organizations and clubs, and gifts will be solicited from organizations. Fifty per cent of all funds collected will be used in Marion to enlarge the activity of the cancer clinic at City hospital and to provide material for public education. If the goal of $25,000 is reached it will be possible to purchase a supply of radium for use by the clinic, according to Junior Cham-

16,417 Registered for Primary Day

Registrations climbed to 16,417 today as time for registering for the May primary narrowed to four days.

Yesterday's business brought in 50 registrations and 25 transfers. Persons still are coming in regularly and Mrs. Nora Fetter, deputy clerk, expects a rush of business before the deadline Monday night. About 1,600 more persons would still be eligible to vote if they register before the deadline, it is estimated.

Registration figures now are higher than they have been since 1940, when the total was estimated at 18,000.

Register To Vote in May Primaries

If you fall into one of these classifications you must register with the board of election by April 8 to be eligible to vote in the May 7 primaries:

1. If you will be 21 years old before the general election.

2. If you have failed to vote in any election within the last two years.

3. If you have moved here from other towns and have resided here 30 days prior to the election. If you have moved from one precinct to another you must transfer but need not reregister.

4. If you have changed your name through marriage or for any other reason.

WANT RUSSIAN TROOPS GONE BEFORE MAY 6

Both Nations Reply to UNO; Reds Pledge Unconditional Withdrawal.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3—Iran offered today to let the United Nations security council shelve the Iranian case temporarily provided Russia would give assurances that Russian troops would be withdrawn from the country unconditionally by May 6.

The council, having received last minute replies from both Russia and Iran to its inquiries of last Friday on the state of negotiations between them, then adjourned at 11:46 a. m. until 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Russia said that troop withdrawals from Iran were not conditional on other negotiations with Iran over such matters as oil and the like.

Russia Makes Pledge

Troops will be out of the country within a month and a half, the council was informed in the message from Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, who however continued his boycott of the Iranian discussion by not actually attending the meeting.

Iran, in a letter from Ambassador Hussein Ala, advised that negotiations with Russia, in accord with a council decision at London, had failed, that Russian interference in Iranian affairs had continued, that Russia had made demands parallel with her troop withdrawals—but that above all Iran wants a friendly peaceful settlement of the situation.

The letter from Ambassador Hussein Ala of Iran stated on behalf of Iranian Premier Ahmed Qavam that "Iran is animated by no spirit of hostility and it is our hope that a settlement will be reached."

This letter was read after one from the council's absent member, Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko, had been presented by Council President Quo Tai-chi of China.

Says Troops to Go

Gromyko said flatly that Russian troops would be withdrawn from Iran in a month and a half. Their evacuation, he asserted was not dependent on oil or other negotiations.

Ala's letter said that after the failure of the Iranian-Soviet negotiations in Moscow earlier this year, the Russians had advised that their troops were being evacuated if no unforeseen circumstances occurred.

At about the same time the Russians handed the Iranian government other memoranda dealing with oil questions and political conditions in the revolt-torn province of Azerbaijan.

Gromkyo said his message in reply to council inquiries of last Friday was submitted officially on behalf of his government. He did not submit it in person but through Secretary General Trygve Lie. It was read to the council by its president, Dr. Quo Tai-chi of China.

Chair Is Vacant

Gromyko's chair was vacant as he continued his boycott of all council discussion of the Iranian question. Russia's response nonetheless saved the council from the potential embarrassment, which many feared, that one of its strongest power-members might snub it altogether by refusing to reply.

Gromyko's answer was brief. The central question of the council's inquiry was whether the withdrawal of troops was dependent on any other negotiations—in other words, is the withdrawal of troops being used as a pressure to win concessions from Iran.

Substance of Letter

Gromyko's letter said:

"The question concerning evacuation of troops was solved by the understanding reached between the Soviet and Iranian governments. As to other questions they are not connected with withdrawal of troops."

The evacuation started March 24 and would be completed in a month and a half, Gromyko reported.

In connection with the statement that removal of troops would be completed in about six weeks, Gromyko did not state as Russian officials previously had, that this might be halted if unspecified "unforeseen circumstances" should occur.

As the council met at 11:13 a. m., to receive the messages filed by the two ambassadors it was not clear whether they constituted full-fledged replies to the council's formal request of last Friday to both governments for information on Iran.

War-Battered Greece Tackles Staggering Reconstruction Job

By HAL BOYLE

Associated Press Newsfeatures Writer

ATHENS, April 3—Tragic Greece, womb of world democracy and present Balkan political pivot, faces one of the most stupendous reconstruction jobs in history.

Her buildings are 23 per cent destroyed. More than 200,000 families among her 7,500,000 population are still roofless or living in makeshift hovels.

Her revenue has been cut 20 per cent in the agricultural areas by the ruin of war and the resultant flight from farms by peasants who for thousands of years have been her mainstay.

These are Greek government figures.

And all that is left to rebuild her are her people's stout hands and hearts—and hopes of foreign help.

Death Toll Is High

Those hearts are fewer by 450,000—dead during war years from battle wounds, malnutrition and disease.

Peace has brought no solution to her problems, which are primarily economic rather than political.

In normal times 60 per cent of this population live on the soil yet only 18 per cent of Greece is arable. German, Italian, Albanian and Bulgarian invasions have razed by fire, bomb and shell scores of villages, and thousands of individual farm dwellings made great stretches of farmland uninhabitable.

"As a result," said one government survey, "people have congregated in the large urban centers of Greece." The nation's battered industrial system, never too flourishing, has been unable to absorb them yet productively—despite the tremendous rebuilding task at hand. Things are needed—tools, materials, transportation and communication facilities—to put this idle reservoir of labor to work.

"In these centers where there are not enough jobs even for the regular population," the report continued, "the number of unemployed has increased terribly and

U.S. Rated No. 1 Atomic Target, but Who'll Attack and When?

By CLARK BEACH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 2—If a ghastly duel with atomic bombs should come, who would be the victim? How soon will it commence? Who would start it?

"We are likely to be the first nation attacked the next time," said General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower before the house military affairs committee, "because twice aggressors have found that with the arsenal of democracy untouched the democratic world can finally get the things that are needed to defeat dictatorship."

What would be the specific targets? Not the fleet at sea nor troops in the field, experts have pointed out, for they are not so vulnerable as more concentrated targets. Atomic bombs probably always will be scarce, and objectives undoubtedly would be population centers, industrial areas, atomic bomb factories and launching sites, naval bases, communication centers, and the seat of government at Washington.

How Soon Will It Be

How soon will it be possible for some mad dictator to challenge us to the atomic duel which might mean the destruction of both nations?

"This is a secret that cannot be held; it is just a question of time," says Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, director of the project which developed the bomb. He thinks some other country can learn the secret of its production in perhaps five years, in 20 at the longest.

But Dr. Leo Szilard, of the University of Chicago, one of the leading atomic research men, thinks some other nation could produce the bomb in 2½ years and that it probably will be produced outside of this country within six years.

On Aug. 6, 1945, the day the first bomb was dropped, the rest of the world was given the benefit of all the research done by United States scientists and their foreign collaborators on atomic energy up to the close of 1942.

It was contained in a monograph released by the government entitled "Atomic Energy for Military Purposes, The Official Report on the Development of the Atomic Bomb under the Auspices of The United States Government, 1940-1945." It was written by Henry D. Smyth, and it has been stated that 50,000 copies were printed.

Opposed Report

Dr. Szilard, who opposed publication of the Smyth report, told a house committee:

"If nothing leaks out from here at all, and if the United States were to sink into the ocean, all the other nations would succeed (in making atomic bombs) rather soon, just by reading the Smyth report."

The secrecy about the work on the bomb after 1942, incidentally, was not so complete as some persons imagine. A government publication, "Minerals Yearbook, 1943," says on page 828 that in 1943 the production of uranium, the chief source of fissioned atoms, was "greatly stimulated by a government program x x x but most of the facts were buried in war department secrecy."

Development of their first atomic bombs, however, will not put other nations in a position to launch an attack. It is not conceivable that any country would commence such a battle until it were convinced it could strike a knock-out blow. This might take years longer.

Even after striking a paralyzing atomic blow, an aggressor could not be assured he was safe from retaliation unless he had a way to land troops quickly and destroy bomb launching sites and other installations. This might delay an attack. Transport planes can travel 6,000 miles, but such a flight is still a one-way stunt performance.

ceipt of a letter from Gromyko, the Soviet envoy himself had said earlier that he had no reply from Moscow to transmit to the council.

Ala had taken a seat with the spectators rather than at the council table, but Chairman Quo Tai-chi of China invited him to join the council.

The Russian message was delivered to Lie a his hotel room by messenger from Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko. That was at 9:10 a. m., the announcement said.

That was five minutes before a letter from Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala was delivered to Lie at his hotel, but the news of Ala's action became known publicly first.

Gromyko Stays Away

Shortly before the announcement was made Gromyko told newsmen he would not attend today's security council meeting. He walked out on the Iranian discussions a week ago when the security council rejected his plea to delay the whole case until April 10.

The Iranian answer was received at 4 a. m., the spokesman said.

Secretary of State Byrnes and Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan conferred last night after Byrnes returned from Washington, where he talked with President Truman. It was understood they reviewed possible courses of council action to meet whatever situations might arise today.

Senate Speeds Action on Twin Housing Plans

Double-Barreled Program To Include Emergency and Long-Range Work.

WASHINGTON, April 3—Senate leaders set their sights today on quick action for a double-barreled housing program.

1. The veterans emergency housing legislation, revised to include $600,000,000 in subsidies to increase output of scarce building materials.

2. The Wagner-Allender-Taft long range housing bill embracing continued low-rent public housing, aid for cities to redevelop "blighted" areas and extension of federal mortgage guarantees to new fields.

Hopes for Both

Before today's meeting of the senate banking committee, Chairman Wagner (D-NY) told reporters he hoped to get approval for both measures and then bring them up on the senate floor soon after pending minimum wage legislation was out of the way.

Wagner expressed confidence the subsidy fund, put into house-passed legislation by a banking subcommittee, would be retained.

The house rejected the subsidy proposal and also refused requested authority to put price ceilings on existing homes. This also was put back in the measure by the senate subcommittee.

No substantial opposition was in sight to the ceiling proposal. Under this proposal, the owner of a house or building lot could sell it for whatever he could get, with that sales figure becoming a "ceiling," in event of resale during the housing emergency.

The emergency legislation also provides for continued control over use of building materials, price ceilings on new homes and a billion-dollar increase in government authority to insure home mortgages.

Long-Range View

The companion long-range program, fathered by Senators Ellender, (D-La), Wagner (D-NY), and Taft (Ohio), authorizes outright federal contributions of $31,000,000 for housing in the first year with annual increases which would bring the total to $133,000,000 at the end of five years.

The plan for federal aid to cities redeveloping "blighted" or 'slum' areas calls for local agencies to acquire the land, clear it and prepare for redevelopment. The federal government would make annual contributions thereafter to enable the city to lease the land, or sell it at a figure which would interest private developers.

One extension of mortgage insurance is aimed particularly to bring funds of insurance companies and other large investors into the housing field.

The Federal Housing Administration would guarantee an annual return after depreciation and operating expenses of 2¾ per cent to investors who put their money into large-scale rental projects on a 50-year investment basis and at a return upon investment of not more than 3¼ per cent.

FHA also could guarantee mortgages up to 90 per cent of value on "mutual housing" constructed under 3½ per cent, 40-year loans.

HOMMA SHOT FOR ATROCITIES

Victor of Bataan Executed by Firing Squad for Ordering Death March.

By The Associated Press

MANILA, April 3 — Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, a black hood over his head and a white target over his heart, died before a U. S. Army firing squad early this morning calm and silent to the end.

The stocky Japanese, who was General MacArthur's foe in the 1942 battle of the Philippines, died for ordering the death march on Bataan and condoning widespread atrocities in the Philippines.

The execution took place at Los Banos, 20 miles south of Manila, about 1 a. m. It was there that Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita had been hanged in disgrace. Homma had headed the Japanese in victory in the Philippines—Yamashita in defeat.

Thirty minutes after Homma died, Lt. Gen. Hikotaro Tajima was hanged for the atrocity slaying of three American naval fliers in May, 1944.

Without perceptible emotion, Homma strode to the execution scene between an escort formed in double ranks. A chaplain walked with him.

Homma stood silent, his arms bound behind him, as the officer in command read the charge, finding and sentence.

The Japanese indicated he had no last statement.

While the 12 men of the firing squad watched, Homma was bound to a post and the hood placed over his head. The four-inch round white target was put over his heart by the medical officer.

The firing squad unlocked rifles as the officer in charge raised his arm. There was tense silence as the men took aim.

Seconds later the crack of rifles ripped the tropical night and the once-victorious Japanese commander was dead.

The conqueror of Bataan and Corregidor was convicted by an American military tribunal in Manila Feb. 11. The United States supreme court rejected an appeal from the death sentence, and a few weeks later General MacArthur upheld the tribunal's action.

Shovel Co. Votes Name Change

ernize the company's activities also came during yesterday's session.

Some of the many sides of the program are (1) an improved financial position (2) a plantwide program of improving manufacturing facilities both through the purchase of new machinery for many departments and a general re-arrangement of the production flow throughout the factory (3) the introduction of modern manufacturing methods and production control, and (4) a realistic approach to the problem of OPA price restrictions which company officials say poses a real threat to the company's profit-making opportunities in view of wage and salary increases, plus increased cost of materials.

Montrose Makes Report

M. E. Montrose, president and general manager, reported to directors plans for the rehabilitation program, and said in part that expenditures totaling more than half a million dollars have already been authorized in a million-dollar program to modernize the factory and improve working condition. His report received unanimous approval of the directors, as did tentative plans for continuing the rehabilitation program.

The factory is already showing evidences of some of the early stages of the rehabilitation program under the direction of J. M. Demarest, recently elected vice president and works manager. White paint has brightened the factory interior, several departments are in the process of rearrangement to clear the way for new machinery due in the future, the entire factory is being fashioned into a more orderly pattern of production, and conferences are under way at the top management level to more closely coordinate the activities of the various departments.

"We are about to achieve a unity of purpose, of planning, of production and over-all operation," Mr. Montrose reported to the directors. "Naturally, we who are here on the job, busy with this far-reaching program, are pleased about prospects for the future and it is a source of great satisfaction to see that our planning and efforts have met with such wholehearted approval. Your backing and co-operation in our program gives new confidence in the plans we are developing."

He added that one of the first fruits of the new program should be increased production—and that production is the top need of the present. The business outlook for the present and the immediate future is bright. Orders are building up a sizeable backlog of business extending into 1947. The new factory facilities and improved efficiency in every phase of the production program will help the company meet its heavy production schedule for the years immediately ahead, and should also put the company in a much better competitive position, Mr. Montrose said.

Turning for a moment to the problem still remaining, Mr. Montrose cited increased costs of raw materials, increased labor costs and the continuation of OPA price ceilings. He pointed out the company is definitely caught in a "price squeeze" and is proceeding with its expansion program only in the faith that governmental controls will be relaxed sufficiently in the immediate future to clear the way for profitable operations. In that connection, he reported on recent conferences in Washington where he presented the company's problems in detail and sought relief through complete decontrol or major price relief in price ceilings which now hang as "the darkest cloud on our horizon."

Directors Elected

The two-day annual meeting opened with the shareholders' session in which the nine directors were elected. The holders of common stock, entitled to elect six of the nine directors, elected E. G. Diefenbach, M. E. Montrose, J. M. Streitz, S. R. Grant, H. T. Gracely and L. J. Rubenstein. The holders of preferred stock elected as their three representatives on the board, Ogden B. Hewitt, Hamilton Pell and C. G. Terry. The latter three, along with Mr. Diefenbach and Mr. Grant, are from New York City. Mr. Rubenstein's home is in Roxbury, Mass. The other directors are Marion men.

The directors, in their formal meeting, reelected officers as follows: Mr. Diefenbach, chairman of the board; Mr. Montrose, president and general manager; J. M. Demarest, vice president and works manager, Alex Gibson, vice president and treasurer, J. P. Courtright, vice president—sales and service; H. T. Gracely, vice president, M. Virden, secretary and assistant treasurer; Walter C. Kraft, assistant secretary, N. B. Schott, assistant secretary.

The company's change of name to Marion Power Shovel Co. was authorized by a vote of the shareholders. Company officials pointed out the word "steam" in the company's name has long outlived its usefulness in the light of power shovel progress. The company was organized in 1884 and by 1926 the use of steam as a means of motivating power gave way to electric operation, which this company pioneered. Gasoline and Diesel power are also used extensively today.

Franklin Co. Votes Fund for Reservoir Project Near Here

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Franklin county commissioners have appropriated $5,000 for the employment of engineers to resurvey the summit reservoir project in the northern part of Marion county, a plan long sought for the control of the Scioto and Sandusky river headwaters.

The summit reservoir plan was revived last December after the Flood Control act of 1936 was amended with the addition of recreation and water conservancy to the original flood control provisions.

At conferences of officials of the Scioto-Sandusky conservancy district, county authorities in north central Ohio and the U. S. engineers, it was decided a resurvey of the proposed project under terms of the new flood control act would disclose justifiable annual benefits.

The summit reservoir project calls for construction of dams at Upper Sandusky and at Prospect, to form a storage lake, insuring a permanent adequate domestic and industrial water supply for Columbus, and drainage and flood control of the entire central Ohio area north of Columbus.

Commissioner C. P. Lauderbaugh said a special court several years ago declared Franklin county's share in the original survey was $7,000 and that only $2,000 had been appropriated at the time.

The city council of Columbus last Monday night also voted $2,000 for the resurvey.

Herbert Says State Auditor Has Racket

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Paul M. Herbert, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor said today State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson is conducting a "truckless trucking racket" in federal surplus commodities.

Herbert in a statement said he would ask Gov. Frank J. Lausche to request the state legislature to make an investigation of Ferguson's activities if a special session of the legislature is called.

Herbert said Auditor Ferguson was operating under a corporation known as "Ferguson & Associates," which has obtained a license C V-47 out of the Cleveland surplus commodities office to purchase and resell government equipment such as machine tools, dies and like equipment.

Ohioan Again Gets Pen Sentence for Theft of Coon Dog

By The Associated Press

WOOSTER, O., April 3—Willard Weekly of Akron, O., today was under sentence to Ohio penitentiary after being convicted for the second time of stealing "Speck," the red tick coon hound who was declared a "thing of value" by the Ohio supreme court.

Weekly reiterated that he was innocent late yesterday after a jury had convicted him of grand larceny. Judge Walter J. Mouges denied a request for probation and pronounced sentence without specifying the length of the term. Statutes provide a term of one to seven years.

"Speck" was worth $60, the jury decided. A year ago a jury which convicted Weekly of stealing the dog from Everett Etzwiler failed to set a value on the hound.

The case was appealed on a claim that "Speck" had not been listed for personal tax and therefore could not have value on which to base a charge of grand larceny, but the state supreme court decided the hound could have value whether listed for taxation or not.

Etzwiler, meanwhile, has regained possession of the dog and reported he had sold him to another farmer for $100.

MRS. JOHNSON RITES

Funeral services for Mrs. Orpha Johnson of Green Camp were held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the home in Green Camp, with Rev. Lester Kidd, pastor of the Green Camp Baptist church, officiating. Burial was made in the Green Camp cemetery. Mrs. Johnson, who was 84, died Thursday night in the home in which she was born.

The unit will remain at Harding gymnasium Friday, April 26, to check students from St. Mary Parochial and the remainder of those from Central junior high. In the afternoon the unit will move to LaRue where it will examine students from LaRue, Montgomery and New Bloomington.

Checks for Adults

Opportunities also have been made for parents and others interested to take the X-rays if they so desire. At each stop the unit will have a period during which adults may be checked. The schedule for adults is as follows: Caledonia high school, April 29, 10:30 a. m., Pleasant high school, April 23, 7 p. m., Harding high school, April 25, 7 p. m., LaRue high school, April 26, 7 p. m.

Letters have been mailed to school superintendents by County Superintendent D. T. Mills, notifying them of the schedule and asking them to have their students transported to the proper examination center.

Speaker at last night's meeting was Dr. Robert Zollinger of Ohio State University medical school.

DRIVE

ber of Commerce officials for the drive.

A proclamation from Mayor Harry L. Dowler, read by Edward O. Uncapher, stated in part "the control of many diseases may be left to public health officers and to physicians; this is not true of cancer, which annually extracts a death toll of 150,000 Americans. Cancer can be curbed only when individuals know the facts of the disease and act on that knowledge in the early stages."

Dr. A. E. Morrison spoke on the cancer clinic in Marion. Held every Thursday morning at City hospital, it has examined more than 170 persons since its start in February 1945. Dr. H. K. Mouser pointed out that twice as many Americans die of cancer in five years as were killed in World War II. One American out of every nine dies of cancer and 40 per cent of these could be cured, he said.

Junior Chamber of Commerce committee chairmen for the drive are publicity, William Ogan, corporation gifts, Earl Purdy, industrial canvass, Walter Wheeler; commercial canvass and coin boxes, Duanne Wiseman, churches and religious groups, Rev. Clare T. Crenshaw, organizations and clubs, Robert Mason.

GREECE

tens of thousands are without work.

"Overcrowding is terrible—10 to 20 persons live in a single unhealthy room—sanitary conditions are execrable and tuberculosis passes from person to person.

"The Greek race will disappear and the conquerors whose aim was to wipe us out because we were the last Mediterranean obstacle to their drive to the Suez will achieve their purpose, unless we undertake the reconstruction of this country."

But all the leaders of Greece feel she is unequal to this task herself—without decisive help, either from the democratic west or the communist east.

Meanwhile the night clubs of Athens are crowded with black market profiteers and by day in the streets grown men beg and sell flowers with idle hands that could better be put to work lifting their homeland from the edge of chaos.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...find they like it and thrive..."

Mrs. Dorothy Kennedy, noted dog breedrr of 3570 N. Harlem Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have been using a diet based on GRO-PUP for my Scotty and Kerry Blue puppies and find they like it and thrive on it. Their coats are glossy and I have had no trouble with digestive upsets. I recommend it."

MOST breeders and veterinarians base their dogs' diets on a good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many depend on Kellogg's GRO-PUP because this famous food provides every vitamin and mineral dogs are known to need.

Kellogg's GRO-PUP is economical . . . convenient to feed. Watch your dog go for its hearty, meaty flavor, and thrive!

Man Had Brick In His Stomach For 10 Years

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by all drug stores here in Marion. — Adv.

Harding to Vote Against Three-Class Setup for Ohio's Schools

New Plan May Toss Presidents into Big Time

By JIM DARBY

Local reaction to a proposal to divide Ohio schools into three classes instead of two for basketball competition varies from positive opposition to indifference Dewey Bonyer, Harding athletic director, said the new plan could only work a disadvantage to Harding D T. Mills, county superintendent, and Dr A. J. Wagner, St. Mary athletic director, said the new plan would have no effect on other schools in the county.

Harold W. Ensminger, commissioner of the Ohio High School athletic association, has mailed out ballots in a referendum to settle the question The Associated Press reports

Harding would probably float in and out of the new AA class, Mr. Bonyer said since the male enrollment hovers around the 400 mark, the dividing line between the proposed class A and AA.

Trouble As It Is

Harding already experiences difficulties in signing opponents, because of the poor facilities for entertaining them on the home courts, he said If these had been better, the Prexies would probably have been in speedier competition some time ago

Schools in the county league and St. Mary would remain in class B even if the new proposals are adopted. The dividing line between class B and class A for four year high schools would be 149 boys Male enrollment at all Marion county schools except Harding falls well below that figure

The proposal would divide Ohio schools into these classes'

Class B—All three-year high schools whose enrollment is 114 boys or less, all four-year high schools with enrollments of 149 boys or less.

Class A—All three-year high schools with male enrollments of between 115 and 399 inclusive and all four-year high schools of 150 to 399 inclusive.

Class AA—All high schools with 400 or more boys enrolled.

Middle Bracket Aided

By further subdividing Ohio high schools into three classes, the new ruling would give schools in the middle bracket—class A under the new set-up—a break. As it stands now those schools with too many boys enrolled to qualify for class B division must compete with schools with as high as five or six times their enrollment

The recent state tournament is an example Akron North has a male enrollment of 222 boys Toledo Woodward had 758 boys The new classification would put the two in different classes

Pirate Rookie Wins Praise from Old Timers

By BILL BECKER
Associated Press Writer

You've heard this one before sure—but there's a rookie in these parts who—

His name is Ralph Kiner, 23, ex-Naval Air Force ensign. He's a rangy outfielder (six feet, one and one-half, 180 pounds) and the way he's been mashing that apple has some of the veteran Pittsburgh Pirates muttering to themselves

"It can't last," some of them say, but Manager Frankie Frisch and Coach Honus Wagner opine otherwise

"We thought he might be a year or two away from the big league, but his showing indicates he's ready right now," says Frisch.

"Kiner has fine wrists and a good follow-through," adds Wagner, with the critical eye that brought him eight National league batting championships.

In his first dozen exhibition games, Kiner batted over .500, with more than half of his blows going for extra bases Six were home runs. In one game against the Chicago White Sox, he lammed five-for-five, including a double and two homers and drove in 10 runs.

In build and general demeanor, he resembles Ted Williams, except the Pirate rookie bats right-handed Kiner is loose and graceful at the plate

Afield and on the bases, he's fast and sure He has the inside track on the center field job although Johnny Barrett and Al Gionfriddo are providing strong competition

Kiner, however, is not a Johnny-come-lately. The Pirates signed him five years ago, fresh out of Alhambra, Calif., High school. He knocked around two seasons at Albany in the Eastern league and part of 1943 with Toronto in the International loop before entering the Navy

His batting figures 279 and 258 with Albany and 236 with Toronto, are far from fancy, but he hits for distance.

He didn't play as much as some in the service, but the Navy apparently didn't harm his timing.

August 1 may find Kiner back at Toronto or some other Pittsburgh subsidiary, but not without a thorough test. The prize belter will be given ample opportunity to pummel pitching in the more rarefied atmosphere of the National league.

Indians Beat Cards, Take on Kansas City

By The Associated Press

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 3—The Indians were back at their training camp today for their lone exhibition with a minor league team, the Kansas City Blues, after meeting out a nine-powered trouncing to the Cardinals yesterday at St. Petersburg.

Without the guidance of Manager Lou Boudreau, who stayed at Clearwater to consult the guidance of Manager Lou Boudreau, who stayed at Clearwater to consult a dentist about an aching wisdom tooth, the Tribe walloped the Cards 7 to 3 in a 15-hit barrage, including homers by Bob Lemon and Dutch Meyer

Lemon's circuit clout did no damage to his bid for a center field job Boudreau has experimented with Lemon in that assignment, with the result that Felix Mackiewicz and Soup Campbell alternated in left field yesterday, where they have not played for years

The Tribe's exhibition record now stands at 10 victories and 11 defeats

Sandow and LaDue Don Gloves Thursday

Marion wrestling fans are in for a lot of action Thursday at the Marion Armory when Monty LaDue and Young Sandow put on the gloves in a ten round grudge fight. LaDue claims it was the blow on the chin from Sandow that caused him to loose to Walberg last Thursday and challenged the kid from Chicago to a fight. One thing LaDue doesn't know is that Sandow was amateur champ in the Golden Gloves of Toledo before he turned to wrestling. Any way you look at it there will be a lot of gloves thrown Thursday night.

A big name in the wrestling world will make his first Marion appearance in four years. He is Danny Savich, the former All-American football player from the U. of Utah. He will meet Renee LaBell in the two hour wrestling match. Danny, during the war, served with the United States Air Forces. This match will be for the best two out of three falls.

Two Marion boys will wrestle the prelim at 8:30. No advance in prices. Call Markert & Lewis Cigar Store early for the best seats.—Adv.

Sweet Billy Conn Is Sour on Free Advice on Battle

By The Associated Press

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., April 3—No one has to tell Billy Conn just now tough he's going to be to get into fighting shape for his June 19 date with Joe Louis, and right now Sweet William is somewhat soured on all the free advice he's been getting about it lately.

After nearly four years in the Army, he knows he and Brown Bomber have the toughest job in front of them any two ear scramblers ever had. He and Manager Johnny Ray have mixed up a program of conditioning here at their lakefront camp the like of which makes any previous training grind look like two weeks vacation with pay

Scheduled for the next 10 weeks are more than 600 rounds of boxing—as much as a dozen or 15 rounds daily when the factory starts running full time in three weeks or so—with about 20 sparring partners who have direct orders to beat Billy's brains in if they can And the sparmates will get cash bonuses for the best jobs of hammering

"I can hear those experts screaming already," Billy grunted today as he pounced along the lakeshore on first roadwork chore. "Now they'll be worrying that I'll be going stale Well I wanna tip them off that Joe and I have been stale for four years. Now we have to go more work than ever before to shake that staleness out

"This is one time there can't be anything like eating anything in the gym when the fight comes up."

The Ray-Conn board of strategy mapped out the ambitious sweat program long before they lifted the curtain on the training camp here.

Conn didn't even wait long enough to go through the important routine of getting acquainted with the chef before going to work He boxed two fast rounds with welterweight Sammy Schippani of Pittsburgh to sharpen up

Quebec Paradise for All Sportsmen in Quest of Fishing

QUEBEC, P. Q., (1946)

To understand why the Province of Quebec should remain the most remarkable fishing range on the North American continent is a simple matter after all

In the first place, one must take physical geography into consideration. To the north, the boundaries of the Province meet the icy waters of Hudson Strait. To the west, they reach the expanse of Hudson Bay To the east, they extend along the wilderness of Labrador and encompass the Gulf of St Lawrence, where are situated the famed Quebec marine fisheries of North Shore, Gaspe Peninsula and Madeleine Islands. The southern part of the Province includes the beautiful Ottawa River and the great majestic St. Lawrence River it borders on four American states, namely: New York, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine

The vast territory of the Province is nearly equal to the combined areas of the twenty-one states east of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers The Ice Age has left it strewn with thousands and thousands of lakes and streams, which are "young," according to the geologist.

While many of those lakes and streams are situated in open country, most of them shine amid deep forests touching the waterside.

Fish and game are plentiful thanks to such environment, and thanks also to a policy calculated to foster wildlife without unduly restricting the sportsman's activity.

In Quebec, old and new ways of living sometimes blend together harmoniously, sometimes contrast peculiarly, and that contributes to the pleasure of visitors attracted by the fame of the Province's paradise for fishermen.—Adv.

Two-Employe Walkout Snarls Work at Galion City Office

Special to The Star

GALION, April 3—The office of the city light and water department here was faced with a tie-up of activities today as a result of a two-employe strike this morning.

Miss Florence Berry, bookkeeper, and C. Sanderlin, accountant, failed to show up for work, having staged a strike in protest to what they termed "inadequate" pay hikes.

City council last night declared an emergency measure, passing an ordinance giving some 70 employes of the city increases in pay from eight to nine cents per hour. Sanderlin and Miss Berry contended last night the raise was not what they wanted, and that they would not be at work this morning.

Today is time for collection of light and water bills due. City Service Director R. A. Poister was attempting today in attempting to handle some of the work which comes as part of the duties of Mr. Sanderlin and Miss Berry. He appealed for assistance to Mayor Hunter who said this morning, aid probably could not be secured for several days. Sanderlin and Miss Berry are the only persons who have the combination of the office safe.

Mr. Sanderlin and Miss Berry came into the light and water office shortly before noon to check the money out and left the safe open, but did not leave the combination with Mr. Poister. A stenographer was reported available after noon to help handle the light and water bills coming in.

The pay hike ordinance was passed by city council five to two. Mrs. H. Kunkel and Oscar Rensch were the two voting no.

Sanderlin wanted $25 more than the new ordinance provides, and Miss Berry wanted $20 more. A supplemental ordinance to give these two employes the requested raises was voted down by council.

List of Changes

In the light, water and service departments, the pay hike amounts to from five to 11 cents per hour, and working conditions are adjusted. These include seven to 15 days per year for vacation; time and a half for over eight hours in one day and on Sunday; seven mentioned holidays during the year with time and a half paid if employes work on these holidays; minimum of two hours for each time called after an eight-hour day; seniority rights, and provision for any new employes not classed as any particular skill to be considered Class B laborers for one year before an advancement is made.

In the light department, sick leave is granted for one day each month, to be accumulative and not exceed 12 days a year.

The service department takes in firemen and patrolmen who will receive pay raises of $8 to $10 per month.

A large representation of city employes was on hand to hear the ordinance passed. Council had received the request for the pay increases on Feb. 19 by some 60 employes. The request was repeated at the March 19 meeting of council when W. H. Wilson, international representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, represented the employes, at which time he said that the I.B.E.W. would invoke the provisions of the War Labor Disputes act, providing for a 30-day cooling off period before taking strike action provided the wage matter was not brought to a successful conclusion.

INTERNATIONAL LAW BROKEN, KEITEL SAYS

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, April 3 — Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel frankly testified today that many orders issued under his name "represented deviations from existing international law" and that it was his duty "to take responsibility for what I have done, even if it has been wrong."

The former chief of the German high command, one of 22 leading Germans on trial as war criminals, told the international military tribunal:

"I am grateful to have the opportunity here and before the German people to give an account of those things. For all officers subordinate to me, I assume responsibility insofar as it is based on moral and legal principles."

From the time Col. Gen. Werner Von Blomberg resigned as chief of the army in 1938, "there was only one commander in chief —Hitler himself," Keitel testified. Von Blomberg died last month in the Nuernberg prison.

"Hitler issued orders to all three arms of the Wehrmacht directly," the field marshal said. "There was no deputizing of power."

SELECTIVE ADVANCE SHOWN BY MARKET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 3—Selective improvement appeared in the stock market today although some pivotal issues failed to respond.

Better views of the international outlook in wake of the Russian and Iranian replies to the United Nations security council, plus a scanning of inflationary aspects of possible wage boosts resulting from the soft coal strike, served to prop sentiment. Acting as restraints on buying were doubts over earnings and dividend prospects.

Near the fourth hour plus signs were in the majority.

Advances of fractions to 2 points were registered at times for Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio, Union Carbide, Wyandotte Worsted, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, U. S. Rubber and international Harvester.

CO. M TO PRESENT ARMY DAY PROGRAM

Scout Cars and Weapons Will Be on Display.

Plans for Company M, Ohio State Guard, participation in the Army Day program to be held in Marion Saturday were made at the regular drill meeting of Company M members in the armory last night.

The company plans to have staff cars and weapons displayed in front of the courthouse Saturday afternoon, and about 20 guard members will be present to give demonstrations. Lt. Ralph O. Young and Lt. Howard E. Fogle will be in charge.

A recruiting officer also will be present to receive applications for company membership. Ten men are needed to bring the unit up to full strength, according to Capt. Elmer E. Smith, commanding officer.

Close order drill at last night's meeting was under the direction of Lt. Young and preliminary marksmanship training under the direction of Sgt. Lawrence Edgington.

A merit ribbon was awarded to Pfc. Richard Hindman. To receive a merit ribbon a guard member must attend 45 out of 48 drills and attend one field training program.

Mrs. Ida B. Quigley Dies in Cincinnati

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Ida B. Quigley of Cincinnati, a former resident of Marion and wife of the late Harry N. Quigley, a former Marion attorney. Mrs. Quigley died at 5 p. m. Tuesday at her home. Born and raised in Marion, she resided in Marion until about 30 years ago. She was a sister of the late Henry M. Barnhart, founder of the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Miss Olive Gurley of 408 South State street, a niece, and Mrs. Alice Gurley of East Church street, are in Cincinnati for the funeral services which will be conducted Friday afternoon. Burial will be in Cincinnati.

Ernie Godfrey Speaks at Foremen's Meeting

Ernie Godfrey, assistant football coach at Ohio State University, addressed the Foremen's Club at Hotel Harding yesterday. In the course of his remarks he introduced Tom Phillips of Berea, a freshman football star of a few seasons ago who has been recently discharged from the army and is now being groomed for Ohio State varsity quarterback. Films were shown of the Ohio State-Minnesota game of 1945.

New officers elected at the meeting are: president, Don Huber; vice president, Lewis Uhl; secretary, Everett Miller; treasurer, A. Gibson.

Railroad Flare Sets Fire to Roof of Church Here

The roof of the Mt. Zion Baptist church at 200 Senate street was ignited by fire at 5:04 p. m. yesterday when an unknown person threw a railroad flare onto the roof. Loss was set at $2. Firemen from Central and the West Center street station responded.

Sparks from a welding machine set fire to the seat cushions of a truck owned by Lawrence Hall while it was parked at the rear of 382 North State street yesterday at 1:14 p. m. A loss of $20 resulted. The call was answered by firemen from the East Mark street station.

Senator Wants Vote on Vardaman Post

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3 — Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) told reporters today he would ask the senate to "stay in session until midnight if necessary" to reach a vote on the nomination of Commodore James K. Vardaman Jr., to the federal reserve board.

Two obstacles stymied the Vardaman supporters who claimed sufficient votes to confirm him for the 14 year term at $15,000 a year.

Akron Workers Say City Can Boost Pay

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 3 — Akron municipal employes, seeking an 18½-cent hourly pay raise, disputed today the city's claim it was unable to meet the request.

Floyd Rees, head of the city sanitation department and a lawyer in his own right, attacked budget figures supplied by Finance Director John D. Currie to show the city could not afford the raises.

"You had a $400,000 surplus last year and we believe you will have another for 1946," Rees told Currie. The sanitation chief estimated the 18½-cent hourly pay increase would cost the city an additional $207,000 a year for workers paid from general taxation funds.

RECONVERSION

flation made the first 1946 quarter "sobering and difficult."

"While production has been good, it would have been even better if labor-management disputes had not put out the fires in steel furnaces, stopped some automobile assembly lines, curtailed production of electric equipment and other vital components.

"These losses slowed down the flow of consumer goods to the market and increased the inflationary pressure which stem from shortages in the face of huge demand."

Snyder forecast that the federal deficit for this fiscal year, ending June 30, will be "several billion dollars less" than the 26,000,000,000 deficit mentioned in the January budget estimates.

The report attributed this showing to the high level of national income, which has kept tax payments at a good level, and the fact that war expenditures are being cut faster than had been expected.

Lists "Solid Gains"

Among the "solid gains" of the quarter just closed Snyder listed:

"Major issues of wage and price adjustment have been met in a way to stimulate production without losing vital ground to the force of inflation.

"Labor - management contracts established in many major industries under collective bargaining should assure uninterrupted production.

"Vigorous programs have been formulated to meet the most critical shortages, most notably in textiles and housing."

While saying these factors may relieve inflationary pressure to some extent, Snyder singled out inflation as "the single most serious threat to successful completion of reconversion."

In a section not contained in previous reports, Snyder dealt with four "special problems of transition"—the returning veteran, housing, the world-wide food shortage, and the scarcity of low-priced clothing.

His conclusions:

Veterans—Not all the 5,500,000 discharged since VJ-day have been successful in finding jobs and it is "up to the community" to help the government in locating work for willing servicemen; also, effective aid must be given schools and colleges so they can accommodate veterans seeking to complete their education under the GI bill of rights.

Housing—The shortage will become more acute in the next few months; the emergency housing program cannot succeed until congress enacts "necessary legislation," including price ceilings on existing dwellings and the proposed $600,000,000 in subsidies to the makers of building materials.

Food—The United States will have to continue high food production for at least one more year, to offset a world-wide shortage which "has grown more critical in recent weeks." It is imperative, Snyder said, that congress authorize the payment of food subsidies "as long as they are needed during the fiscal year 1947."

Clothing—The shortage of low and medium-priced garments is more acute than at any time during the war, but price ceiling increases and sharpened priority controls have had "beneficial effects." Despite the improvement of recent week, "it will be more than a year before supply begins to overtake demand."

Truman Sees Peril in Farm "Rider"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—President Truman said today inclusion of labor costs in a new farm parity formula would upset the reconversion apple cart.

The President expressed this view at a news conference when asked his reaction to the senate move hitching the farm parity amendment to the minimum wage bill.

The senate voted for the amendment, proposed by Senator Russell (D-Ga), despite a warning from Mr. Truman that he would veto the wage bill if it came to him with the parity rider.

Meanwhile, an agreement was reported among senators on a compromise bill raising the present minimum wage from 40 cents an hour

MRS. BOLANDER DIES SUDDENLY TODAY

Marion Woman, 80, Stricken on Stairway.

Mrs. Katherine Bolander, 80, died suddenly at her home at 344 North State street about 11 a. m. today.

Mrs. Bolander was stricken on the stairway of the State street address, where she made her home. She lived in an upstairs apartment. John L. Sullivan, who lives downstairs at that address, heard the sound of a fall and on investigation found Mrs. Bolander's body, police reported. She had not been ill, a sister stated.

Born Feb. 4, 1866, in Kenton, she lived in Marion many years. Her husband, John Bolander, died a number of years ago.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Harry C. Krause of 124 East Farming street and Mrs. Clara Marty of Columbus, a brother, J. Edson Belz of Detroit, Mich., and several nieces of Kenton and Columbus.

The body was taken to the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals on East Center street. Funeral arrangements are awaiting arrival of the brother from Detroit. Burial will be at Kenton.

HEALTH BILL HURT BY SENATE CLASH

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—The public "you're another" row between senators over national health legislation led Capitol Hill to revise downward today the chances of that phase of President Truman's program in the current congress.

The U. S. public health service put its weight behind the administration measure today, but there were signs that Republican forces hoped to substitute a less extensive proposal for the bill now under study by the senate education and labor committee.

The committee hearings touched off ructions when Senators Murray (D-Mont) and Taft (R-Ohio) got embroiled yesterday in acrimonious word-swapping over the merits of the measure which would set up a $5,000,000,000 compulsory health insurance plan.

Taft assailed the bill as "socialistic" and promised to introduce a better one of his own.

Murray, angry at the interruption, told Taft to "shut your mouth," and later threatened to "call the officers and have you put out."

PEACE TALKS REOPEN IN AKRON WALKOUT

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 3—Company and union representatives went back to the conference table today for negotiations toward settlement of the Rubber City's transit strike.

As the walkout of CIO transport workers went into its third day, Conciliators John L. Conner and Jack P. Walsh brought leaders of the union and the Akron Transportation Co. together at city hall.

The city's school attendance was down about 10 per cent yesterday but major rubber factories said absenteeism was "no greater than the normal five per cent."

The strike over wage demands by more than 400 bus and trolley operators halted all operations on the company's lines, and members of the AFL International Machinists union refused to cross picket lines.

Major Charles E. Slusser appealed to the strikers and company late yesterday to resume negotiations.

Both sides said they were willing, a union statement declaring "the road will be cleared" for a settlement "as soon as the company makes an offer commensurate with that granted the steel, auto, rubber and other industries."

Lou Marsh As "Tom Breneman" Passes Orchids at Party Here

Columbian hall was transformed into Tom Breneman's popular dining spot for the "Breakfast in Hollywood" party given by members of Beta Gamma chapter, Lambda Chi Omega sorority Tuesday night. Approximately 250 guests were seated at gaily decorated tables and throughout the evening saw Lou Marsh, as "Tom Breneman" award the wishing ring, give orchids to the oldest guest present and to persons voted the "good good neighbor," and distribute many other gifts.

The evening's "Mr. Breneman" interviewed the guests over the microphone and the program went on the air over WMRN for half an hour at 8:30. Assisting him were Miss Rosaline Manzo as "Bobby Filipino," and Robert Axe.

Miss Irma Leonard of Columbus received the "wishing ring," and an orchid sent by Mr. Breneman, was presented to Miss Estella Smith of 221 Blaine avenue, 86, the oldest guest present. The honor of being the "good good neighbor" went to Misses Mary, Elizabeth, Agnes and Anna Lawrence of 535 Avondale avenue who received an orchid. Letters submitted in a response to the sorority's request for "good neighbor" nominees were judged prior to the "breakfast party," by a committee selected by the sponsors.

Mrs. Susan DeLorme of 303 North State street, whose wedding took place 53 years ago, was presented a gift and other awards went to the mother of the largest family, most recent bride, the person having the most recent birthday and other anniversaries and events.

Tom Breneman donned the "craziest" hat and the guests sang the "Breakfast in Hollywood Song." Later refreshments were served by the sorority members.

Proceeds of the party will be used by the sponsors to carry on the work of the national organization which includes a scholarship fund, and support of a crippled children's hospital, and local welfare work.

. OPA

An increase of that amount for milk, he added, would mean a hike of about six cents a pound for butter and about three cents for cheese.

OPA and the agriculture department have recommended dairy product price boosts primarily to try to check declining production and, if possible, to increase output of fluid milk.

A secondary reason, officials said, is a decision that something has to be done about strikes and threats of strikes in the industry. In the last few weeks OPA has received scores of applications for price increases, many of them prompted by imminent work stoppages.

Rather than continue to handle these on an emergency area-by-area basis, the government has decided there probably will have to be a fairly general price adjustment.

Officials said milk production was dropping off principally because increased labor and feed costs were causing farmers to trim their dairy herds.

They added that in the case of butter, the basic trouble was that cream was being diverted to other more profitable products. To change this, OPA is considering an order to put cream for manufactured products under control.

Bowles May Force Anderson To Act

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Government officials said today Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles may order Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to approve a regulation designed to check rising cotton clothing prices.

These officials who asked anonymity, said Bowles planned to do this unless Anderson decided soon to approve the measure voluntarily.

Drawn up by OPA nearly three weeks ago on instructions from Bowles, it would require higher down payments on cotton sold for later delivery.

The purpose, Bowles has said, is to check speculation in cotton, which he contends has been a major factor in forcing up prices of cotton clothing.

Bowles ordered cotton margins boosted after leading cotton exchanges had refused to do so voluntarily.

But some cotton-state senators, opposed to the order, contended that under the price control act the measure could not be put into effect unless approved by Anderson. And they reportedly urged the cabinet officer to block the order by refusing to sign it.

Anderson took the position his signature was not required and said in an interview several days ago that the agriculture department "will not be involved" in ordering the higher payments.

WYANDOT COUNTY PLANS CENTENNIAL ON JULY 4

Committee Is Named for Gala Day Event.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 3—Harry E. Kinley of Upper Sandusky, secretary of the Wyandot County Historical society, today announced formation of a committee to complete arrangements for a Gala Day at the Wyandot county fairgrounds, July 4, to mark the centennial of the county's organization.

Mr. Kinley, county historian, was named chairman of the general committee. The event is under auspices of the county commissioners, historical and agriculture societies.

Other members include Earl Burson of Carey; Dwight Hasterman of Sycamore, C. W. Cramer of Wharton; Cyrus Sears of Harpster, and L. H. Buckingham of Marseilles. Charles Reed, commissioner's clerk, is secretary-treasurer.

The day will include games and contests in the afternoon followed by an ox roast, with a pageant, and fireworks in the evening.

EDUCATOR SPEAKS AT CLUB MEETING

Joseph Strobel Addresses Rotarians on Vocation Training.

"Vocational Education Looks to the Future" was the topic of a talk by Joseph Strobel at the Rotary club luncheon at Hotel Harding Tuesday.

Mr. Strobel of Columbus, state director of vocational education, stressed the fact that many boys and girls leave school after reaching the ninth grade. These are students who quit school because they do not feel that they are being offered subjects to train them in making a living. These students then find that they are classed in the unskilled labor group and have little chance of advancement.

If schools offer vocational courses, Mr. Strobel believes that many of these students would complete their education and better prepare themselves for employment. Mr. Stobel explained that in vocational courses the pupil would work with the actual tools for half the day and be given class room instruction the other half. In a two year course the pupil would make considerable progress toward becoming a skilled worker.

Many of the larger cities in Ohio have vocational programs set up, Mr. Stobel said. Smaller communities still have considerable progress to make in this direction he added.

The meeting was opened by the singing of "America." Harold Hall, a new member, was introduced by Don Howard.

Guests were Col. John W. Huling of Chicago, formerly commanding officer of the Scioto Ordnance plant; Capt. E. A. Mayes of Columbus; R. N. Audrey of London, O., A. A. Freeman, W. E. Orcutt, Wilfred Schaffner, J. H. Bray, Douglas Torrance, Frank Robinson, A. C. May, Dr. F. L. Thomas and Jack Ehlin, all of Marion. Virginia Raymer was the Harding reporter.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I HELD back my reply to Dicky until the last traces of his display of temperature of Olina's spirit had

That the last of his explosion—and I might again note he had brought back some extra choice "top sergeant" ones from his aviation camp—had rumbled away and he sat silent, but still breathing heavily, I ventured a tentative mollifying answer.

Like A Child

"I don't think she's deliberately planning any humiliation of Mary," I said. "She's simply acting like a child who unexpectedly has won a game and is trying to extract every bit of joy from it."

I saw by the look in his eyes that I had "gotten him to think," but he was still stubborn in argument.

"That doesn't make it any easier for Mary," he said. "Look here! You telephone Olga and tell her that because of Mother's illness none of us can come to the luncheon."

"That was my first impulse, too," I said, "but when I was alone Mary about me—"

"Mess" is the word you want," my husband said, and although I knew that he also was filled with explosive words, yet I also knew that his volatile spirits and his sense of humor were welled up through his anger.

Your Fresh Heart

I took fresh heart for my project and studied at him.

"Yes, it is just right," I said, "but Mary is better than to plunge right into the middle of it. You couldn't drag her away from it with a tractor."

He frowned portentously. Then his brows relaxed, and he nodded.

"I can see her point of view," he said. "If she didn't go, she'd feel that she was quitting under fire. But why in the world did you have to tell Mary about it when Mother's unseen attack gave you such a ready chance to duck the whole thing? Not one of us would have shed a single tear, you know that."

"Not even me," I said dryly. "And I would not have told Mary except for my conviction that if we dodged the issue today, Olina would find some other opportunity to flaunt her ring and the betrothal, when you and I might not be present to give moral support to Mary."

Special Dispensation

"That's true," he admitted. "There's nothing to be gained by putting the thing off. But, as long as Mother is in no danger, isn't it a special dispensation of Providence that she can't be present at the luncheon?"

"Mary and I already have put up a special paean for that," I said, and then I gave him a long, significant look and he drew both his hands high in the air.

"Don't shoot! I'll come down!" he said with a twisted grin. "Of course Faith can't go to the luncheon. Heaven only knows what she might take it into her precious little pate to say. But how are you going to keep her from crying? Remember, if she cries, I stay here."

"I don't think she'll cry," I said sedately. "Katharine says she thinks she has a fool-proof scheme for making Faith want to stay down here while we go to the luncheon—provided you will play your part."

"What in thunder does she want me to do?" Dicky asked captiously.

A Grown-up Affair

"Simply to act as if you didn't want to go, but had to because you were invited," I said. "Katharine wants you to implant firmly in Faith's mind the idea that the luncheon is a most boring, grown-up affair that we are attending because we have to do so."

"I can do that all right," he said grimly, "but what about the boys?"

"I'll attend to them," I said, "but we must all be careful not to overdo the thing if Noel's around. However, I'm hoping that Katharine's planning something which will keep Faith away from Noel and Mary until time to go to the luncheon."

"It will have to be good," Dicky said gloomily. "But tell me more about this plan of Olina's. Incidentally, it was decent of Olga to warn you. That must have taken a bit of doing for the proud ex-queen of Transylvania."

New Alphabetical Term Makes Debut—Amfoge

By HAL BOYLE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

ATHENS, GREECE — Members of AMFOGE—the allied mission for observing the Greek elections—wear a blue and white owl on their Greek arm bands. They themselves call it "the big eyed chicken," but leftwing Greeks who boycotted the elections have a less complimentary interpretation of the significance of this old emblem.

"It stands," they say, "for the foreign visitors who sleep all day and stay up all night."

Hal Boyle

This partisan view of the AMFOGE personnel is not widely held, however. Most Greeks have made them feel welcome and say they feel that the presence of AMFOGE observers was a moderating influence in the elections.

Junior American officers assigned to AMFOGE, many of them combat veterans, complain about the financial disparity between themselves and civilians attached to the mission. They say the soldier personnel get only $7 per day expense allowance while state department employes are getting $15.

Italian Campaigns Recalled

Many of these troops tell amusing stories of the Italian campaign and the larcenous habits of Mussolini's onetime faithful followers.

One concerns two inebriated American soldiers who approached an Italian boy bootblack late at night. Accustomed to the native prosperity for black market operations, one soldier jokingly pointed at his wobbling buddy, who was out on his feet, and asked: "How much you give me for my friend here?"

"Ten dollars," the boy answered unexpectedly. He peeled off the money and the first drunk pocketed it and staggered off into the darkness.

The bootblack then led the soldier he had "bought" into the nearest park and stripped him of his uniform, shoes, watch and underclothing. He abandoned his bare purchase to the cold breezes. He is supposed to have made about $200 profit on his investment.

Col. Norman E. Fiske of Portland, Ore., here on a brief military visit, was made military governor of Rome when the Allies took that capital. Before that he served five years as American military attache in Rome.

Tells Battle Story

His favorite story concerns two recruits who were told by a weary sergeant shortly after they reached the battlefront to go up and get a German machine gun that was slowing up the advance.

They disappeared slowly in painful belly crawls but quickly returned. Before they could say a word the German machine gun was heard stuttering again.

"I thought I told you to get that machine gun," the sergeant snorted angrily.

The two recruits looked at each other unhappily.

"Sergeant, we couldn't get that gun for you," one ventured finally. "It was being used."

Awards Presented at Scout Meeting

Newly elected officers were installed and rank and service awards presented Monday night at a Court of Honor meeting of Boy Scout Troop 37 of the Salvation Army. The Court of Honor ceremony was combined with the troop's second annual birthday party.

Officers installed were: Donald Runyan, chaplain; Charles Free, quartermaster; Don Atkinson, bugler; Jim Long, treasurer, and Dick Brown, scribe.

Two service stars representing two years' service as a den chief were presented to Bob Hypes and one star was presented to Dick Brown by Carl Watrous, troop committee chairman.

Owen Tolin, past assistant scoutmasters, presented plaques for the second class scout rank to Bob Hypes, Dick Bechtel, Donald McGraw and Charles Free. Service stars, representing two years' service in the troop, were presented to Eugene Gear, Dick Bechtel, Dick Brown, Donald Atkinson, Bob Hypes, Donald McGraw and Walter Green. One year's service stars were presented to Jesse Blevins and Bob McAdow. The service stars were presented by troop committeeman Bernard Seaton.

The meeting was opened with an invocation by Lt. Mary Davis of the Salvation Army. It was closed with the Scoutmaster's benediction by Scout Executive Hugh F. Hay. Other speakers were Capt. Mary Nesiewicz of the Salvation Army, troop committeeman Carl Watrous and neighborhood committeeman Harry Woodhill.

Boxing matches were staged and guitar music was furnished by Louise Bowles and Carl and Clyde Rech.

SCHAFFNER'S

YOUR HEALTH

By BERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Allergy

More and more, doctors are coming to believe that allergy may play a primary role in producing disease. Allergy simply means individual over-sensitiveness to substances which are usually harmless. In other words, one person's body tissues may be irritated or even poisoned by something which leaves another perfectly sound.

Recently, Dr. Henry L. Williams of the Mayo Clinic has suggested that the distressing Meniere's Disease may be due to an allergy. This may prove a very hopeful theory because in the past, doctors have sought in vain for satisfactory treatment of this peculiar affliction.

Occurring as a rule only in persons over 30 years of age, Meniere's Disease causes recurrent attacks of dizziness, in which objects seem to rotate, with temporary deafness in one ear, vomiting and a condition of the eyes known as nystagmus in which the eyes jerk rapidly to one side and then return slowly to the normal position.

Dr. Williams believes that as a result of some allergy, the tissues of the internal ear become swollen and this, in turn, brings on the symptoms of Meniere's Disease.

He finds support for his idea in the fact that during an attack, patients exhibit an abnormal craving for salt, indicating that something has upset the body's metabolism, the basic process by which food and necessary liquids are turned into energy.

His new concept of Meniere's Disease led him to a new treatment. A number of patients were given niacin and potassium nitrate with lessening of the amount of salt and fluid in their diets. Niacin is a part of the vitamin B-complex.

Of 62 patients treated for Meniere's disease, 50 were relieved of their symptoms merely by administering the niacin. When the salts and fluids in the diet were reduced and potassium nitrate given, those who are not relieved by the niacin alone, were benefited.

Doctor Williams suggests that the niacin be given by injection under the skin starting with a moderate sized dose and gradually increasing the quantity. The fluids are restricted to the equivalent of six glassfuls of water a day.

Gradual Deafness

Doctor Williams has found that in patients with Meniere's disease deafness may gradually occur and that, at the same time, the patient develops such symptoms as running of the nose and severe headache. Whether or not the condition is due to an allergy, it would seem that the method of treatment proposed brings benefit to many patients.

It must be remembered, also, that not all persons who suffer from attacks of dizziness and deafness are suffering from Meniere's disease. These symptoms may be produced by other disorders affecting the internal ear, as well as a number of nervous disorders.

However, when these symptoms occur, a careful study should be made to determine if they are due to Meniere's disease, in which event the treatment suggested would appear worth trying.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. A.: I have a fluttering feeling in the hollow of my throat at times. Could this be gas on my stomach or is it due to a heart condition?

Answer: The condition you describe is probably due to nervousness. It is probably no cause for great concern.

It is not due to gas on the stomach or any heart condition.

Engineer Employed by City Department

Employment of Harold Gabriel of 248 South High street, a civil engineer, by the city has been announced by Safety-Service Director Ed O. Uncapher. Gabirel was hired in accordance with a new policy calling for hiring of engineers by the city on a long term rather than a day-by-day basis. Provision for payment of engineers by the month was made at a recent meeting of the city council in anticipation of an expanded public building program, particularly the new municipal airport.

The city's engineering force will be further expanded, according to Mr. Uncapher.

Gabriel, a graduate of Carnegie Tech, came to Marion in 1941 as an employe of a contractor who worked on the Scioto Ordnance Depot. He has recently been employed by the Huber Co. He held a regular army commission of first lieutenant in the corps of engineers from 1935 until he received a medical discharge in 1937.

STATE BIDS TOO HIGH

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Bids for construction of a three-story men's building at Athens state hospital ran as high as $100,000 over the state estimate of $730,000, the state welfare department reported. Opened yesterday, the only bid on the general contract was submitted by the Knowlton Construction Co. of Bellefontaine for $277,000, against the state estimate of $183,678.

2 SLAYERS ESCAPE FROM DEATH HOUSE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Two convicted slayers made a daring break from death row in the District of Columbia jail today and fled with the uniforms of two police guards whom they left locked in cells.

The condemned men, Joseph D. Medley, 44, and Earl McFarland, 34, overpowered the guards at 4:15 a. m., police Capt. George Little said, and then calmly spent 45 minutes preparing to flee. At 5 a. m. one of them called the guard captain and reported all well in the cell block.

Then they let themselves down from the roof of the three story jail on a rope of twisted sheets, stole a car bearing Maryland license plates, and drove away, police said.

Medley was found guilty of killing Mrs. Nancy Boyer after a poker game in her luxurious apartment on March 6, 1945. McFarland, a Marine veteran of the Guadalcanal campaign, was convicted of the rape-slaying of Miss Dorothy Berrum, 18-year-old government worker, on Oct. 5, 1944.

Upper Sandusky Rites Set for Mrs. Irwin

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 3—Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Irwin, 88, who died Monday at the Home for the Aged in Upper Sandusky, will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. from the Bringman & Co. funeral home here, with Rev. H. C. Kellermyer, pastor of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church officiating. Burial will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Irwin, nee Elizabeth Grey, was born in County Meath, Ireland, May 8, 1857.

ACCIDENT REPORT

The account in The Star Monday of an automobile accident which occurred Saturday at the intersection of routes 203 and 739 near Green Camp, erroneously reported Mrs. Mary M. Gosnell of Green Camp as traveling on route 203. Mrs. Gosnell, who was slightly injured in the accident in which her car burned, was approaching route 203 from route 739 when another car pulled in front of hers. Route 203 is a stop road.

MacArthur Action To Guide Morals of Army Praised

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP News Analyst

Our troubled world could profit—if it would—from the striking lesson which the outspoken General Douglas MacArthur has read us in calling on his Army chaplains to "exert strong and direct moral leadership" over occupation troops in Japan.

The specific occasion of this move is the fear expressed by some Americans that there is "widespread, promiscuous relationship between members of the occupying forces and Japanese women of immoral character." The general states that several times he has commended "the high standard maintained by our forces engaged in the occupation," and has "seen nothing to discount that view." Nevertheless he has acted promptly on the strength of letters received from American homes.

DewittMackenzie

MacArthur, who never has been afraid to talk right out loud about spiritual and moral matters, has combined precept and action. He has taken measures to curb prostitution an to provide the troops with healthful recreation. But he recognizes that these alone are not a cure. He says moral leadership also is necessary.

Look At Europe

That is particularly impressive to your columnist who has just returned from a Europe which is suffering in many areas from moral and spiritual collapse. This is true not only of prostitution but of all other phases of life, and it is the general aspects of the situation to which I would direct your attention.

Important sections of the continent are in a shocking state of general immorality. That is one of the basic problems of rehabilitation.

So far as prostitution is concerned we've been hearing plenty about that from the Allied zones of occupation in Germany recently. This problem in the Reich is aggravated by the fact that Hitler deliberately schooled the younger generation in sexual immorality—taught the girls that it was their duty to bear men children out of wedlock to provide soldiers for their country. Naturally the young women who have accepted this doctrine have acquired elastic consciences.

Sex Not Only Issue

However, the sex problem is far from being the only one, for the whole moral fabric of Germany and some other countries is punched full of holes. The Reich is one of the worst spots because Hitler deliberately debased and savaged his people so that they would follow him in his program of slaughter and conquest.

They say every cloud has its silver lining, and the bright spot in this dark picture is that there still are Germans, like the famous Pastor Niemoeller, who recognize that moral reconstruction is essential to recovery.

Religious bodies, irrespective of creed, are joining hands in this crusade which is being directed at all activities, including the political.

OFFICIAL URGES NEW OHIO HEALTH LAWS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Ohio needs a program for care and treatment of spastic paralysis victims who, lacking muscular control, often are branded as being mentally ill even though possessing normal, healthy minds, says Welfare Director Frazier Reams.

Reams told the 51st annual convention of the Ohio Hospital association here yesterday that a state school should be established to teach Ohioans afflicted with the birth injury to the central nervous system how to live normal lives.

The 500 delegates also heard Reams urge state correction of physical defects among Ohio's law-breakers.

Recent experiments, said Reams, have shown many cases of social maladjustment among Ohio's 12,000 inmates of penal and correctional institutions were due to some type of physical disturbance or illness.

Other main welfare problems confronting the state are the need for raising safety and hygiene standards of homes caring for the Ohio's indigent aged, and establishment of more receiving hospitals for the mentally ill and the segregation of mentally ill tubercular patients, Reams said.

Also the "medieval" system of bringin a person into court to have him convicted of insanity before he can be institutionalized, soon should be replaced with a system under which any physician could enter a patient in a receiving hospital for the mentally ill at any time, Reams concluded.

tions, and that it had no reports of any lots of life. The Army also had no reports of deaths.

Dr. Archie Orenstein, Hawaii county physician, reported last night it might be necessary to take fingerprints of some bodies still unidentified so that they could be cremated promptly to forestall possible contagion.

Territorial Gov. Ingram M. Stainback, meeting with the Army, Navy and Red Cross officials named special representatives to direct the immense task of hurrying critical items and services to ravaged areas.

Stainback said the regional Civilian Production Administration office in San Francisco pledged top priorities for requisition of lumber and building materials. Reconstruction and rehabilitation will be handled largely by private business, with the territorial government clearing away red tape, he asserted.

Wrecked Hilo, city of 25,000 on the exposed shore of Hawaii island, reported adequate medical supplies, nurses and hospital facilities, but made hurry-up requests for food and clothing.

Diapers in Demand

Topping the list was the item of 6,000 diapers, plus several hundred sets of baby clothing and hundreds of adult-size garments.

Many families fled for their lives with such haste that they saved none of their belongings.

Far-reaching sea-air searches conducted by Army and Navy personnel continued, and rescues of individuals and small groups wafted far to sea were reported.

One of the search pilots, Navy Lt. (JG) S. R. Nemeth of Cleveland, Ohio, was handed a message as he landed to refuel, informing him his wife had given birth to a baby girl.

"What a time to have a baby," he said.

Three Injured as Truck and Automobile Collide

Three people were injured as the result of a collision between a panel truck driven by James E. Drake, 31, of 175 Park boulevard and a car driven by Thomas J. Elder, 28, of Connecton, state highway patrolmen report. Elder and his wife, Mrs. Twila Elder, 26, are in City hospital where Elder is being treated for cuts and bruises on the face and Mrs. Elder for a possible fracture of the left leg. Drake was treated for broken ribs and released.

The accident occurred on route 95 just east of the city limits at 12:45 p. m. yesterday. Patrolmen said the Elder car was traveling west when Drake, who was traveling east, made a left turn into Clover avenue. Elder was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision. Both cars were badly damaged.

COL. J. W. HULING HERE FOR VISIT

Former Ordnance Plant Commanding Officer Makes Call.

Col. John W. Huling, commanding officer of the Scioto Ordnance Plant when the huge government facility was being built here, spent yesterday in Marion renewing old acquaintances.

He stopped off here enroute home in Chicago to Fort Hayes, Columbus, particularly to attend a meeting of the Marion Rotary club, of which he is a member.

Recalling his work here Col. Huling paid a fine compliment to Marion, saying, "I look back on Marion as the city that gave the war effort the finest support in my experience."

Col. Huling, a regular Army officer, will go on the retired list April 30 because of disability. He has spent 29 years in the service, remaining in uniform after World War I. For a time before the outbreak of World War II, he was ordnance officer in the Philippine Islands.

Besides his own service in the armed services the war cost Col. Huling heavily in a personal way. He lost a son, First Lieut. John W. Huling Jr. in action in Germany. He was killed less than a year after graduating from West Point Military Academy.

Col. Huling's daughter, Mrs. Frank Clapp, who was well known here, now is living in Chicago. Before her marriage, which took place while the Hulings were living here, Mrs. Clapp taught school at Prospect. Capt. Clapp recently was discharged with the rank of major. He was a member of Col. Huling's staff at the ordnance plant and later was commanding officer of the Missouri Ordnance Plant. At present he is enrolled in the graduate school of the University of Chicago.

After leaving Marion Col. Huling was commanding officer of Navajo Ordnance Depot at Flagstaff, Ariz. He recently was awarded the United States government Legion of Merit medal for his contribution to the war effort.

Tickets for the entertainment, scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. are being sold by the class members and also may be purchased at the school Thursday night.

FLETCHER MIGHT BE OHIO'S BY APRIL 15

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Col. E. L. Lyons of the Fifth Service Command said yesterday that Ohio might be able to take over Fletcher General hospital near Cambridge, O., by April 15.

The officer, at a meeting in the governor's office, said he could not speak officially but that developments indicated the state could move in by that date. A final inventory of the hospital's equipment may be filed this week with the chief of Army engineers, he said.

State Welfare Director Frazier Reams, optimistic after the meeting, said he thought the hospital would be under full state operation by May 1. "We're really on the road now," he said.

Others at the conference were Dr. Frank F. Tallman, state commissioner of mental hygiene and Lt. Col. C. C. Fletcher of the Army engineers. The governor did not participate.

The state has been authorized to take over Fletcher as a mental hospital.

Dr. Harold L. Yochum May Head Capital U.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Dr. Harold Leland Yochum of Detroit, Mich., second vice president of the American Lutheran church, has been invited to become President of Capital university here, the board of regents announced.

He would succeed Dr. Otto Mees, who resigned last December after 33 years' service to become President Emeritus.

A native of Fostoria, O., the 42-year-old Dr. Yochum holds degrees from Capital and Ohio State. He previously served congregations at Hessville, O. (Sandusky county).

ARMY TO ACTIVATE RESERVE CORPS SOON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—The war department announced yesterday that activation of organized reserve corps units will begin this summer as a third step in the creation of the post-war army.

The entire program, if completed, will provide the nation with a reservoir of military strength at least six times greater than existed in 1939 when the regular Army, National Guard and reserves together mustered a total of only 363,348 men.

The first step in the program was the request to congress for continuation of the draft to assure a standing army of 1,550,000 on next July 1, with a subsequent reduction to 1,070,000 by July 1, 1947. The second step was a recommendation that a National Guard of 622,500 be authorized.

In preparing for the third step of activating reserve units, the Army reported it has a substantial manpower pool to draw on. Currently more than 225,000 officers of World War II have accepted commissions in the reserve, and about 300,000 enlisted men have signed up.

The organized reserve is viewed as a supplement to the regular Army and to the National Guard in the event of an emergency.

U. S. OFFERS FARMERS "GAMBLE" ON WHEAT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—The government today gave the farmer a chance to gamble on a possible future price rise in wheat and still sell his grain now for shipment to famine-stricken areas.

Under a special program designed to pull more than 100,000,000 bushels of the bread grain off farms during the next 90 days to meet urgent foreign needs, the agriculture department will allow growers to dispose of their grain now and pick a future market price.

This program was hit upon to combat a reported tendency of wheat farmers to hold their grain for possible higher prices. Lending support to the belief that farm prices may go higher is strong support in congress for the so-called Pace farm parity bill which would raise the parity and ceiling price of wheat from $1.58 to $2.10 a bushel nationally.

Farmers selling wheat under the new program must select a future date, which may not be later than March 31, 1947, for determining the price they will get for their grain. The price will be the market price prevailing on the chosen date. Those who fail to designate a specific date will be required to take the market price of March 31, 1947.

One of New Quads Claimed by Death

By The Associated Press

LONGVIEW, Wash., April 3—The excitement over the quadruplets born in nearby Kelso was dampered by the death of one of the tiny babies shortly before midnight last night.

The infant boy, listed only as "C" on the hospital birth chart, was the third-born of the three boys and one girl. Earlier in the evening, he had been reported as "very weak," and plans were made to place him in a separate incubator.

Attendants at St. John's hospital here say the remaining three children have a "pretty good" chance to survive.

The quadruplets were born yesterday to Mrs. Leo Pierce, whose husband was killed a month ago in a mill accident.

Bucyrus Leader Quits

Spaghetti Yes, but No Baloney

FIORELLO LaGUARDIA, the new director general of UNRRA, does not always make sense with his public utterances, so when he does they stand out like Jewel's rare and serene. To get a point across, Mr. LaGuardia in his inaugural address told UNRRA delegates that he proposed to get more food and less resolutions, more tractors and fewer typewriters, more spaghetti and not so much baker tape.

The remark evidently found favor with a nation of people who are being exhorted to save food, surrounded with official statements about farmers' problems and their national commitments—but in fact we have no assurance that these governments are doing anything. It is reminiscent of the wise men early in the war when official spokesmen were belaboring the people 24 hours a day to get behind the war effort while the people were waiting for the government to take the lead.

There was only one way then and there is only one way now for the American people to act. That is for the government, which is the people's instrument to act for them. Washington officials tell us that propaganda is the new weapon and that it must create popular support for a thing. It doesn't need to be created if Fiorello LaGuardia has made that important discovery, he has won half the battle before he gets into action.

Martin L. Davey

THE death of Martin L. Davey, governor of Ohio from 1935 to 1939, invites many recollections of his political character.

Mr. Davey was among the first to question the infallibility of social workers at a time when they threatened to have all the answers. Many Ohioans will remember the incident of the new rug for the executive office. His sparring matches with Washington were sensational, in an era when state governors crawled to Mecca on their bellies.

He presided in an era of strange arithmetic in public finances, but no stranger than the depression-juggling budgets common among his constituents. He tangled with the Ohio State University, that sacrosanct institution of learning and football; with unfriendly newspapers, which included nearly all of them, labor unions; other politicians; and a wide variety of experts, some acclaimed, many self-professed. He called out the guard to curb the CIO, reduced state taxes, battled the liquor interests and through all of it he talked. This long afterward, it is the talking that stands out. Since he left Columbus, talking has been out of style in Columbus. The governor's office runs as silently as a new automobile.

Ohioans mourn the passing of this man who was active in their public affairs for so many years. He was a lively influence. Things did not always run smoothly under his direction as far as politics and public relations were concerned, but no one ever wondered what had become of Martin L. Davey.

Sauce for the Farmer

NOTHING about congress has been more certain this session than the maneuver by which a coalition of farmer sympathizers in the senate tacked farm price increases on the bill to put a 65-cent floor under industrial wages.

Politically, this was as obvious as kissing a baby or handing out a campaign cigar. In a political sense, it amounted simply to saying that what was sauce for the wage earner was sauce for the farmer.

Economically, it may mean a great many other things, but the senate debate preceding the vote on the amendment to give farmers a better break on parity prices shows that senators themselves were badly confused about the economic implications. They did understand the political implications, however, those being their specialty.

It goes without saying that the outcome is a 10-strike for the farm bloc loyalties and an embarrassment for the opposition, which includes the Truman administration. President Truman by promising to veto the amendment to give farmers a bigger cut of the inflation pie has alienated farm support. He has widened the breach in the Democratic party. He has given additional comfort to the coalition of opponents in both parties who seem determined to make him lie in the bed in which his political strategy of chumming with CIO-PAC has placed him.

The administration bill to raise minimum wage rates was political. The amendment to put farmers aboard the inflation gravy train was political. One crowd of politicians outsmarted another crowd.

Byrnes Swings French Vote Away from Russia.

WASHINGTON, April 3—Mr. Byrnes, the state secretary, received an unexpected but effective boost in the back for what was judged to be a courageous job getting the Franco-Iran, Henri Bonnet, on the UNO-Iran committee to cast the deciding vote.

The French government, since DeGaulle went out, has been considered another vote for Russia, a sudden, embarrassed, but practically sure Communist vote. But there resulted memorandum in Mr. Leon Blum, arrived in Washington with his hand out for $2,500,000,000 from us at the same time Bonnet's hand was extended with the deciding vote between Messrs. Byrnes and Gromyko on the committee of the UNO security council.

As it turned out, there was no deal on the committee, no vote for Bonnet to decide. The committee could not even get to that. It avoided all these propositions for action, and failed to agree on anything but the disagreement and the ultimate effort of arranging some deviation of the Iran matter better [illegible]. So Mr. Byrnes saw the program. Of his successes as a lawyer unsplit these days—but deeper [illegible].

Action Against Spain

The French government led the Communists had tried earlier to force the United States and Britain into aggressive action to chase out the Franco government of Spain. Both Byrnes and the British went along with a three-power resolution, and white paper attack on Franco, but when it came to moving troops, the Communist dominated government of France waved the papers but generally alone. They moved troops up to the Spanish frontier, which is now an armed camp on both sides. The United States government knows if France is ousted by outside Communist pressure Spain will get a Communist dominated government which may be even less cooperative with us than the Franco regime and more isolated. So we are clinging to this new Spanish policy if France is to be overthrown, the Spaniards must do it meanwhile we will continue to send some moderate economic aid to the people, including oil and gasoline, as we did during the war.

But with Blum over here seeking big money for France, and Bonnet played on a spot by Byrnes in UNO, the French government has decided on a step of appeasement to the United States are in order. The Socialist party in full knowledge and in full knowledge of its government coalition with the Communists, recommended on Sunday a new French foreign policy of closer cooperation with the United States in foreign affairs and cooperation with (against Communism) in domestic affairs. It will take doing, but the French have usually been equal to such occasions. For the present the change means only the French may accept our recommendations for internationalization of the Ruhr and Saar, and settlement of German questions. Most American authorities, however, expect the change toward closer general cooperation to be temporary that is, until Mr. Blum gets the money.

Blum Refuses Post

The comedy of complexities regarding the biggest role in the [illegible] Mr. Blum himself refused to go into the cabinet of the French government. While he was coming to undertake its financial mission to America, he declined a cabinet job and is known to regard his government somewhat skeptically.

Indeed the common authoritative inside opinion here is that the Communist-Socialist coalition is merely now going through a phase of proving itself to be unpopular. It cannot get the food or clothing necessary to become popular, unless Mr Blum gets the two and a half billion dollars or more from us, it [illegible].

As soon as this course of developing unpopularity has been run an overturn of the government is expected in France, a change which will relegate the Communists to a less important [illegible].

THE STAFF PREPARES FOR G-DAY

The Army is mounting for another ingenious campaign.

From the war department has gone out a directive to all commanding officers ordering the immediate launching of post-victory gardens.

There's a new angle for the current recruiting campaign: "Join The Army and See The Earth—A Shovelful At A Time."

Soldiers now, rookies will be given their choice of weapons: rake, spade or grubbing hoe.

One can just see the warriors lined up in battle array, awaiting zero hour and the attack on that loquacious and ingenious foe, the Jimson weed.

This new operation presents a challenge to the medical corps. It did a great job with combat injuries and battle fatigue but can it cope with blistered palms aching backs and other row-crop casualties?

Not to be outdone, the Navy will doubtless adopt a similar program. In fact, with a couple of inches of top-soil and a cover crop, some of our bigger aircraft carriers might well end up with cattle on the flight deck.

Kurds in Iranian Whey

THE BLACK AREA is the area in which the Kurds are attempting to set up a new independent state. The shaded area is that in which they have lived for centuries.

By CLARKE BEACH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The Kurds, still cocky and vigorous after 4,000 troubled years on one of the stormiest crossroads of the world, have proclaimed an independent Kurdish state in northern Iran where Russian occupation forces have caused international controversy.

Warlike and virile nomads, the Kurds ever since the dawn of history have been resisting conquerors or building up empires themselves.

They are the real aristocracy of the human race, with pure Aryan blood (in the scientific, not the Nazi sense) in their veins and with names that are older than Babylon. Among their ancestors were some of the greatest men of the ancient world. Their family portraits are carved in rock on high mountain cliffs southwest of the Caspian Sea where they have held their landed estates for thousands of years.

Cover a Wide Area

The general area they inhabit is called Kurdistan. The name also is applied specifically to provinces in northern Iran and easternmost Turkey. They are scattered through the Zagroes mountains, south of Mount Ararat, where the Bible says Noah's ark came to rest, and their home land extends through the border regions of Turkey, Iran and Iraq. About 125,000 of them are mixed among the Armenians on Russia's southern border.

Kurdish population estimates range from 1,500,000 to 4,500,000. It is generally agreed that about half the Kurds live in Turkey. Some authorities say there are less than 1,000,000 in Iran and possibly about 500,000 in Iraq.

Living in tents of black goat's hair, most of them migrate with their flock of goats and fat-tail sheep to high mountains in the summer and the valleys in winter. Those who have settled in villages live in one or two-room houses built of sun dried mud brick or rough stones set in mud plaster. They raise wheat, barley, rice, tobacco, cotton, grapes and various fruits.

Warlike Traits Prevail

The tribes are continually warring among themselves, raiding their neighbors or robbing caravans and trucks. Clannish and perpetually feuding, they have seldom been united for any prolonged time. They once formed a [illegible] union under Shah-i-Armens, Kurdish king of the Armenians; and again under Saladin, another Kurd, who led the Mohammedans against the Crusaders in the twelfth century.

They are physically one of the finest races in the world—of medium build, muscular, sharp-featured, healthy, with quick natural intelligence. Some of them have received excellent European educations and there is a movement to adopt a common language for all tribes. Their most progressive town is Sulaimaniya, in Iraq, with a population of 20,000, modern hospitals, schools and a newspaper.

The newspapers in the Kurdish tongue lately have been urging all Kurds to rebel. They still resent the Allies' having broken their promise to set up an independent Kurdish state after World War I, as a recompense for aiding the Allied cause. It was chiefly Turkey's objections which caused the Allies to abandon the project.

On the Road to China

The mountain passes among which they live have been avenues of commerce and pathways for invaders throughout recorded history. Camel caravans from China traversed the roads to take silk to Roman markets in the Black Sea ports and to Antioch in Syria. Marco Polo visited them, and the armies of Alexander the Great passed through their territory.

Sumerian records of 2,000 B. C. mentioned the Kurds. One of the Kurdish tribes conquered Akkad, in Babylonia, and ruled it for six centuries (1800-1200 B. C.). The Kurds helped Cyrus overthrow Nineveh and Babylon, and Persian kings for centuries employed the Kurdish cavalry.

The Kurds fought all the great Assyrian monarchs and finally absorbed the remnants of the Assyrian nation. The Medes, who descended upon Belshazzar at his feast, also were absorbed by the Kurds.

Their territory was invaded by the Arabs in the seventh century, by Genghis Kahn in the 13th century and by the Turks in the 16th century. But none of the conquerors was able to control them for long. From Herodotus and Xenophon to the latest historians to visit them, all agree that the Kurdish tribes are tough and not to be assimilated. Rebellion in Kurdistan is an old, old story.

Move To Fill Pews

LONDON—Elimination of dull sermons and revision of prayer methods to avoid "gabbling" were prescribed here recently as cures for empty church pews at the conclusion of a six months' survey of England's parishes. The committee recommended more sociability among worshippers, better-timed services, and toning down of choirs as constructive steps towards attendance.

THEY'RE BOTH RIGHT

Army "Caste" Under Fire

By Jack Stinnett

WASHINGTON — The Army's own investigation of the so-called "military caste" system might well be the source of some of the greatest changes in officer-enlisted man relationship in 160-odd years.

The very hush-hush beginnings already are under way. It probably will be mid-May or later before a report is made public.

Secretary of War Patterson's appointment of the investigating board was quite a surprise. Even more surprising was its membership. Headed by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, all six of the members are reservists. Not one West Point man in the carload.

However, there already are complaints. One is that the board is officer-packed. This is a little ridiculous. All six were at one time enlisted men. Two of the members were discharged as sergeants. They are former T-Sgt. Jake Lindsay, who won the congressional medal of honor in the infantry and now works for the Veterans Administration at Lexington, Mass., and former Sgt. Meryll Frost of Hanover, N. H., who was a bombardier in the Air Forces and was badly wounded in Italy. He is now a vice president of the Air Forces Association.

Up Through Ranking

The other four are former officers, but they all came up the traditional hard way—through the ranks. Other than Gen. Doolittle, they are: former paratroop Capt. Adna H. Underson, Freeville, N. Y., now employed by the New York State Conservation Department; Lt. Col. Robert Neville, formerly with Stars and Stripes in the Mediterranean theater, and one of the chief critics of the caste system; and former Lt. Gen. Troy H. Middleton, hero of the North African and Sicilian campaigns and now comptroller general of Louisiana State university.

Arguing that he wanted no possible charge of regular army influence levelled against the board, Gen. Doolittle insisted that the hearings be held at some other place than the Pentagon Building.

All of the hearings are "executive"—which means that the press is barred. Gen. Doolittle's contention is that better results will be obtained from informal discussions, without putting witnesses on the spot through fear that their testimony will make tomorrow's headlines.

Not One-Sided

The committee doesn't plan to concentrate on adverse criticism of the military caste system. Some persons who approve of the present officer-enlisted man relationship will be called. Civilians and Red Cross workers who served with the GIs in the field also will be asked to state their views.

During the revolution Gen. George Washington called on Baron Von Steuben to give some semblance of organization to the hodge-podge Continental Army. There has been little change since then of that Prussian general's concept of relationship between officers and enlisted men.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, April 3, 1936

A general cold wave that sent temperatures to three below in Nebraska brought half an inch of snowfall to Marion and pushed the mercury to seven below freezing.

Dr. Wallace R. Brode of Ohio State university left on a six months trip to Siberia to observe for only a minute the chemical composition of gases surrounding the sun during a total eclipse of June 19.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann was executed at Trenton, N. J., for the kidnap-murder of Charles Lindbergh Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. Parents of the kidnaped child were in England, where they had sought refuge following the sensational trial and conviction of Hauptmann.

Miss Jane Kirts of 379 Pearl street entertained for the pleasure of Miss Dorothy Clark, student at Ohio Wesleyan university who has home for the spring vacation.

Twenty-five prairie chickens were released in Marion county by the state division of conservation as part of an experiment to determine the practicability of adding them to the list of Ohio game birds.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Romine of 885 Henry street.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Campbell of 219 Pearl street returned from West Palm Beach, Fla., where they spent the winter.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, April 3, 1926.

The Marion city board of education, after two years of study and investigation decided to adopt school banking. It was to start the week of April 12 with inauguration of the system fostered by Thrift Inc. of Chicago.

The plea of Gerald Chapman, notorious bandit for a new trial on the charge of murder was denied by the court at Hartford, Conn.

Will Rogers in his weekly letter commented on the increasing death toll in automobile traffic. He said, "Now they call all the accidents 'progress.' Well, maybe it is progress but I tell you it certainly comes high priced."

Mrs. Earl R. Johnson gave a linen shower and bridge party at her home on Hane avenue in honor of Mrs. Paul D. Irey.

A 1956 Baby Speaks

(APOLOGIES TO THOMAS HOOD)

I REMEMBER, I remember
The house where I was born—
The crevices and cracks through which
The sun peeped in each morn—
The ceilings low, the shaky walls,
The plague, lumpy floors,
The windows loose and noisy and
The tissue-paper doors!

II

I remember, I remember
The cockeyed shape and size—
The modernistic gadgets and
Contraptions not so wise!
The buttons all around the house
When are my folks perverse—
(We would have seen at sight, I guess,
The darned things would not work).

III

I remember, I remember
The plumbing's screwball lines—
It had a little bit of all
Those postwar-home designs;
The bathroom-presto' —folded up—
The tub would disappear—
The kitchen-sink would roll away
When thrown into third gear!

IV

The doorbells were on cables slung
And up they went by day
To give way to a music room
A gym or cabaret.
The kitchen worked on rollers and
When dishes all were done
We'd make a playroom of the place
And have the "mostest" fun!

V

A button moved the pantry out
And put a guestroom in;
We threw a darling little switch
And back it came again!
The dining room could be made small
Or medium or large
(The pressing lever Number Eight
Would make it a garage!)

VI

I remember, I remember
My father's sad, sad tale
Of how he was a veteran
And got the home by mail;
He ordered it by catalogue
And got a GI loan
For ten times what the shack was worth
But, still, it was his own!

VII

I remember, I remember
My father always said,
"I wish I'd bought a rugged home—
Old-fashioned like instead";
"One thing," he said, "a veteran
Inside his hat should paste:
'When you go out to buy a home
Don't ever buy in haste'."

Walter Reuther won the presidency of the Automobile Workers Union by 138 votes out of a total of 8,000. We had rather expected the victory would be by 18½ ballots and that the cheering would have lasted 18½ minutes.

We await the Squawk of 1946 next week when the racing season opens in New York with that any daily double. The abolition of the double was announced last autumn, but most fans took it with a grain of salt and their cry when they reach the track and find no daily double will be "Why wasn't I told?"

New York in abolishing the daily double has a holier than thou attitude over California, Maryland, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Florida. We wouldn't be surprised to see it voting to abolish the loudspeaker, the electric starting stalls and the sanitary drinking cup.

Three Cheers

By Truman Twill

The fun-poking that fuddy-duddies are doing at roundhouses designed by R. Buckminster Fuller must be very hard to bear. But don't let them hurt your feelings, Buck.

Here's one convert who can think of worse things than a round house made of aluminum suspended from a pole. Here is one convert who has lived in worse things—and they weren't held up by anything but high rent.

Some of us fellows supposed to be handy around the house would like to have a round house to be handy around. As for what the darn thing looks like, who ever said the ones we were living in were things of beauty?

Take those dillies with the gingerbread trimming. Or the jobs with the gables that pop out exactly like architectural goose pimples. Or the General Grants. What prizes did they ever win?

Let's be frank and earnest about the way they're put together inside too, Buck. Your house has pie-shaped rooms, each room has a solid window space on the outside. Our rooms have rooms shaped like other pastries, some with no windows at all.

Our houses have to be painted. Your house can be kept clean with a hose and scouring powder. Our houses have to be ventilated. Your windows that won't open. In your house the windows aren't made to be opened, and the air comes in through a whingus on top that will settle for the whingus, Buck.

The termites take one look at your house, and it makes every tooth in their body ache. Likewise with mice and rats. Your house can be put together in less than a week, ready to start living in. The jobs we've been enduring are never finished. The missus always wants to change something.

The fuddy-duddies say they don't live in houses that look alike. We've cased plenty of their joints and so have you, Buck. The same old dark fast nooks, stairs, fireplaces and bathrooms. All the same look on the outside too, it you look hard enough—plastered with mortgages.

Confidentially, Buck, these are the people who wanted the automobile to keep on looking like the buggy, who pine for the good old days of Cal Coolidge, demand the same things to eat year in and year out, think John L. Sullivan was the greatest thing ever done in muscles and imagine the New Deal is the last word in reform.

They're stuck in a rut, that's their trouble and skittish about the world of tomorrow because they quit growing in the world of yesterday. Don't let them bother you, Buck. Our new reformers. Your brain baby looks like a cabbage. What have we got to lose, or haven't you seen our place?

Schools Face Book Scarcity

NEW YORK—Many GI's and other students currently crowding American schools and colleges may find themselves without books unless steps are taken to offset a growing shortage of textbooks, publishers here indicated in a recent report.

Continuing paper shortage, lack of manufacturing facilities, and the inability of publishers and educators to estimate future school registrations were given as chief reasons for the shortage.

FEAR HARD FROST WILL DAMAGE CROPS

Especially Will Suffer from Freeze.

A hard frost now would do considerable damage to fruit trees and growing plants, County Agricultural Agent Arthur H. Smith said today.

Many growing things are from two to three weeks ahead of their normal schedule, according to the county agent, and should temperatures drop to 28 degrees the fruit trees, especially peaches and plums, strawberries and even wheat crops would be in danger. As long as there is plenty of moisture there is less danger from frost than when it is dry, the county agent pointed out, but under dry conditions many small fruits would freeze at 28 degrees.

There are only a few commercial fruit growers in Marion county although many farmers have small orchards for their own use. Most peach and plum trees are now in blossom, Mr. Smith said, and would suffer from freezing weather.

Ohio Congressman Invites U. S. To Get Out of Food Business

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 3—Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio offers the government this recipe for food for 1946:

"Get out of the food business."

Chairman of the Republican food study committee, Jenkins told a newsman:

"Food is like a river. If it is not interrupted it will flow naturally from its source—the producer—to its destination—the consumer.

"The function of government is to encourage the natural flow of food by removing unnecessary regulations and obstacles, and to guarantee adequate production that there may be no inadequate consumption."

Sees Socialism

Suggesting that there should be no federal interference except to prevent scarcities, Jenkins said: "When the government has the authority to fix the prices of every commodity, our cherished system of free enterprise will be gone and socialism will scourge us."

"During the war," Jenkins said, "we had many serious food situations. Much of our trouble was due to fallacious policies and unwise and inefficient administration.

"A great mistake was made in fixing price control at the consumer level. We tried to regulate the river by damming up the mouth. This put the greatest burden on the small man—the butcher and the grocer.

"To try to equalize prices we paid many billions of dollars in subsidies. But the butcher and the grocer did not get any of these subsidies.

"From this condition, created by the government, rose the greatest system of black markets the world ever saw. Law-abiding businessmen lost their profits and went out of business.

"The black market man had a big business. He violated the law—people pain him exorbitant prices—and his profits were tremendous."

Lists Points

Jenkins proposed two factors "that formerly contributed mightily to a successful food business:"

1. Efficient distribution.
2. Quality of merchandise.

"Many thousands of successful grocers and butchers who had made themselves successful by courtesy and cleanliness and efficient methods were forced out of business by ruthless regulations," Jenkins said.

"Those who wrote the regulations gave no consideration to courtesy and quality. Quality was subordinated to price."

Music Festival To Be Presented at Morral

A spring musical festival will be presented at the Morral school gymnasium Thursday night at 7:30, and will include an operetta by grades one to six, a minstrel by the High School Glee club, selections by the various music organizations of the school, and novelty numbers. Mrs. Elise Hoover, music instructor, is directing the program. Various presentations will be the operetta, "Peter Rabbit," music by the band, orchestra, mixed chorus, girls' glee club, mixed ensemble, and a musical skit by the girls' ensemble, "Alice Blue Gown." Admission tickets will be available at the door.

FORMER MARIONITE TAKES O.S.U. POST

James M. Fisher Jr. Takes Faculty Position.

James M. Fisher, Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. James M. Fisher of Cameron, W. Va., formerly of Marion, has accepted a position as an assistant instructor in the psychology department at Ohio State university, Columbus. He assumed his duties as a member of the staff at the beginning of the spring quarter and is teaching general psychology.

A graduate of Harding school in 1936 he attended Ohio university, graduating in 1942. He recently was discharged from the armed forces after serving as a lieutenant in the Army for 43 months. His assignments in the Army were as a clinical psychologist at various Army general hospitals where he worked with both neuro-psychiatric and brain injured patients. He plans to return to Cameron at the end of the quarter at State and spend the summer with his family. He expects to enter the University of Iowa in the fall to continue his graduate studies toward his Ph. D. degree.

Since resigning as associate minister of the First Presbyterian church here Rev. Fisher served as pastor at New Martinsville, W. Va. for more than six years and his present charge at Cameron, W. Va. In taking over the pastorate at Cameron, Rev. Fisher returned to his first church where he was ordained in the Presbyterian ministry in 1916. In addition to his pastorate Rev. Fisher is the stated clerk in the Wheeling presbytery.

Miss Dorothy Fisher, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Fisher, who was graduated from Harding High school in 1933, also was graduated from the St. Louis Institute of Music and Washington University at St. Louis, Mo., and has been supervisor of music in the Warrenton High school at Warrenton, Va., for the last two years.

New Homes for VETERANS

Frank Postell, one of Marion's well known builders of good homes, in cooperation with the Marion Federal Savings and Loan Association, now has under construction, or planned, a group of twenty-one homes, all located on either side of Merchant Avenue, between East Church Street and Indiana Avenue, which will be a section of all new homes in a very desirable location. These homes will be one and two story, five and six rooms, all of distinctive style and complete in every detail, including landscaping.

Materials to be used in this project are being obtained through HH Preference Ratings, which requires that eligible veterans only be given an opportunity to buy these homes during the period of construction, and for thirty days after completion. In the event they are not sold to veterans during this period, they will be available for purchase by non veterans, at the same prices.

Ceiling prices, as fixed by FHA as agent for the Civilian Production Administration, range from $8,662 to $8,995. Arrangements have been made with the Marion Federal Savings and Loan Association for financing these homes for qualifying veterans through the GI Bill of Rights, which provides for monthly payments as low as $5.28 per thousand dollars borrowed.

These homes will all be completed as rapidly as possible, with some available for occupancy within the next ninety days. Plans and specifications, as well as pictures, may be examined and complete details obtained at the office of the Marion Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Whether it be a cottage costing a few hundred dollars, or a project involving many thousands, the MARION FEDERAL is always prepared to take care of your financing requirements.

Apparently the post-war home television set is going to dip as low as possible into the price range. One figures mentioned is $150.

A Chicago manufacturer (Belmont) reports his engineers have just completed work on a model which he hopes to retail around that figure. Production is to get under way in time to start delivery in July.

The receiver, compactly designed for table use, has a seven-inch picture tube producing a sharp black and white image approximately 4½ by 6 inches. The cabinet is only 14½ inches high, 21 wide and 16 deep. The tuning range covers the 13 channels of the commercial television band.

HITS GRAIN FOR LIQUOR

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 3—Ohio Grangemaster Joseph W. Fichter says the government should prevent use of grain and sugar in making beverage alcohol during the world food crisis. A letter to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson said in part: "Grange members are disturbed * * * when children are crying for bread, adults cannot justify the luxury of liquor."

How Dr. Edwards' Helps Constipated Folks!

For years Dr. Edwards relieved patients bothered by constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by all druggists. Olive Tablets are mild, gentle but oh —so thorough! Olive Tablets act on BOTH upper and lower bowels to produce more natural-like movements. No griping. Just complete satisfaction. Caution: use as directed. 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.
